Jos. Friedman dies

Joseph Friedman, 71, of 65 Berkshire, Clayton, Mo., a member of the St. Elizabeth Hospital governing board and chairman of the board and chief executive officer of the Chromalloy American Corporation, a worldwide business firm, died at 12:15 a.m. Wednesday at Firmin Desloge Hospital.

He was admitted to the hospital for treatment of what he thought was a pinched nerve and died of an aneurysm, an abnormal condition characterized by the dilatation of a portion of an artery.

He was a former resident of Madison for 40 years.

Mr. Friedman bought a profitless, $100,000 company 20 years ago and turned it into a $1 billion conglomerate.

He encouraged successful smaller companies to join him and grow under his corporate organization at Chromalloy American. More than 160

Cutoff on overtime

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

Differences between Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler and City Street Superintendent Lionel Portell have developed into a controversy involving the amount of overtime pay for Street Department employees, it was disclosed during a regular meeting of the City Council Tuesday night.

In response to a question by one of the aldermen, Mayor Schuler said that he has informed Portell by letter that he will sign no checks for payment of overtime to street department workers after Jan. 1.

Schuler told the council: "About six months ago, I sent a letter to the (city) department heads asking them to reduce the amount of overtime they were paying, or to explain why the overtime was necessary."

"All of them responded with significant reductions in Granite City Council 8 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 27, at GC City Hall.

The late Steve Maeras, longtime Madison County Democratic power, never held the county party reins. But a successor as mayor of Madison, Mike Sasyk, may seek the chairmanship.

Granite City Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer, who also is chairman of the Madison County Board, plans to give up his county Democratic chairmanship.

Hagnauer said Wednesday, "It appears Mike Sasyk is trying for the chairmanship of the Democratic Central Committee. He'll be a good man. I could support him."

The retiring party chairman, who is to be replaced shortly after the March 21 primary election, said a primary slating meeting by the party's county leaders may take place tonight.

Robbed, abducted

A service station attendant was robbed and abducted at gunpoint in Madison Wednesday night, but later was released unharmed.

Joseph L. Rainey, attendant at the Clark Service Station at Fourth Street and Madison Avenue, told police that four men in a light beige or brown Chevrolet pulled into the station at 9:55 p.m. and one of the men got out.

The man approached him and asked to buy some potato chips.

Weather outlook

Sunny and warmer today with high about 40. Clear tonight with a low about 30. Increasing cloudiness and mild Friday. High about 60. Saturday through Monday cloudy with rain likely. Highs in the 40s and lows in the 20s during the period.

The man then displayed an automatic pistol and asked Rainey, "Where are your bills?"

After taking an undetermined amount of money from the attendant, the four men forced him into the back seat of the car and proceeded toward St. Louis.

While going through the McKinley bridge toll booth in Venice, the victim was forced to keep his head down.

About half way across the bridge, the robbers released the victim and allegedly threatened him if he gave any information to police.

One of the men was described as five feet, eight inches tall, between 18 and 20 years of age, and wearing a blue suede coat and blue jeans.

A second man was described as five feet, nine inches, weighing 185 to 170 pounds, and wearing blue jeans and a hooded sweat shirt.

Emergency crews enjoy chance to bring cheer on holidays—and throughout year

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

"We have a 28-year-old woman with pains in the lower quadrant, nauseated, chills and fever. Her blood pressure is 170 over 80, pulse rate 60 and respiration 16. She is a patient of Dr. .... Our ETA (Estimated Time of Arrival) is two minutes. We'll be ready. St. Elizabeth out."

The voices are calm, unhurried and precise. A whirling noise in the background gives the transmission a sense of movement and the intermittent squeal of a siren at its highest pitch occasionally seeps through.

It's not exactly the script heard each evening at 5:30 over a St. Louis television station, but it is so close to "Emergency," it could be a rerun.

But this two-way conversation is live at 12:30 a.m. and not an excerpt from a TV drama.

The scene and transmission are repeated every day, with just the principal characters varying and the ailments, by the Granite City Ambulance Service in radio contact with St. Elizabeth Hospital Emergency Room.

By calling 877-4747 — day or night — an individual can have a well equipped ambulance with a fully qualified crew at his front door within minutes.

The telephone rings in four strategically located places — Nameoki, West Granite and the main fire stations and St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The coordination and cooperation are excellent. It is not a 'hit or miss' operation.

Should all four ambulances be in service at the time of a call, something which has yet to happen, a backup ambulance is available.

They are "Johnny on the spot" and nothing is appreciated more in an emergency as an ambulance arriving swiftly and the reassuring feeling one experiences knowing the personnel are well trained and efficient.

Layered look adds warmth

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County Extension
Adviser, Home Economics
Those lowering their thermostat to save energy and money this winter are in luck. The layered look, which is also the warmer look, is "in" this year.

Clothing that insulates the body keeps it comfortable and warm in cool rooms. Trapped, still air is excellent insulation.

Clothing that traps a lot of air insulates the body best.

The fashionable layered look allows air to be trapped between layers and to insulate the body. Try wearing two thin sweaters rather than one thick, bulky sweater for warmth.

The two sweaters not only trap air themselves, but also the layer of air between them. The outer sweater must be large enough to allow room for that air.

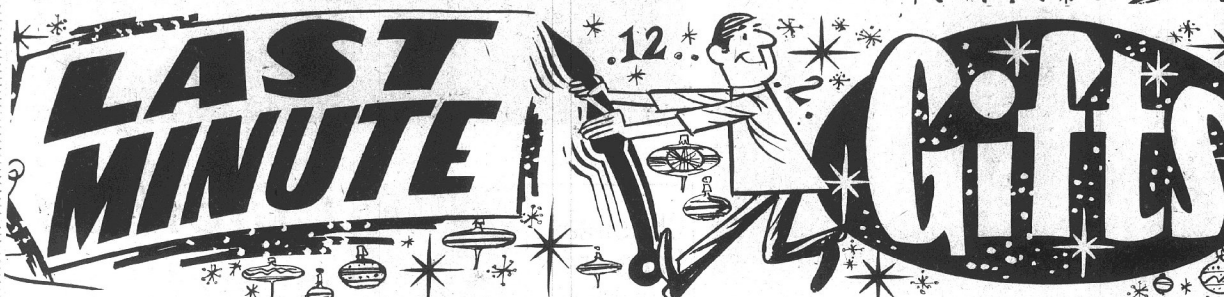

Clothes that fit too tightly do not allow air to be trapped between clothes and the skin. Loose clothing, however, permits air movement and the loss of body heat.

Choose clothes that fit properly for greatest insulating effect as well as highest style. The layered look is fashionable for everyone. Layers of sweaters, quilted vests, jackets and tunics are "in" for women. The three-piece suit is highly fashionable for men. All of these clothes insulate the body.

Use the principle of air entrapment in all types of clothing. Fishnet underwear with holes and textured stockings are insulators. Boots and slacks are better than shoes and skirts for cold weather.

The layered look also has the advantage of allowing you to adjust to minor changes in temperature. If your office is slightly warmer than your home, you can remove a layer of clothing and still be comfortable.

It's a look that's flexible, practical and attractive.

Deny rezoning for development at Arlington Heights

The Madison County Board Wednesday morning agreed with numerous residents of Arlington Heights who objected to plans for development of a 10-acre tract in the subdivision.

A petition bearing the signatures of 146 objectors was presented to the board and the board members unanimously voted to deny rezoning for the tract, despite a recommendation from the county's zoning board of appeals that permission be granted.

Objectors said the project would rely upon a septic tank system, which would endanger drinking water from wells throughout Arlington Heights. Existing structures in the subdivision are on a private sewer system, but the system is inadequate for an additional large development.

The request was from Flora Mouser and Sam Campbell, seeking rezoning from agricultural to R-1 single family residential, for an odd-shaped lot on the east half of Section 13, adjoining an existing apartment complex.

They also requested a variance in the set-back requirements at the front and the rear.

A public hearing on the request was held Wednesday, Dec. 7, at which objections were

Sentenced to 10 weekends in county jail

Madison County Circuit Judge Joseph Barr Monday sentenced Jerry Gibson, 25, of 2022 Missouri Ave., to two years of probation and 10 weekends in the Madison County Jail after a jury found him guilty of reckless conduct in connection with the shooting Sept. 21, of Billy Creek, 26, of 2128 Dewey Ave.

Creek suffered two gunshot wounds to his abdomen, a wound to his left shoulder and a cut to his forehead during a struggle in Gibson's home. Creek is recuperating from his wounds.

A jury in Madison County Circuit Court Nov. 10 convicted Gibson of reckless conduct after deliberating the evidence five hours.

Two youths arrested in burglary

Pontoon Beach police arrested two young men, ages 17 and 18, hiding in an auto in the 3800 block of "B" Street at 3:35 a.m. today, a short time after a storage shed in the area had been burglarized.

Police Sgt. Michael Goodman was patrolling near Bruene Avenue and "B" Street when he noticed a riding lawn mower at the side of the road with a chain saw on the seat of the mower.

A search of the area was initiated and it was discovered a shed was broken into at the rear of the home of Charles Parkinson, 3901 Lake St., a court building for Madison County Circuit Court. The padlock has been cut with bolt cutters.

About a block away from the mower and chain saw was a parked car which officers checked, finding two young men inside, crouched down, police related. The two were taken into custody and officers alleged finding bolt cutters and a pick ax in the rear seat.

Investigator Chester Ballew said he plans to seek approval from the Madison County state's attorney's office today for felony warrants against the two.

He noted the lawn mower is valued at about $650 and the chain saw is worth about $150.

HEARING DELAYED

A hearing on the liquor license of Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307, scheduled for 10 a.m. Wednesday, was postponed due to the illness of Venice Mayor William Eberhardt who is the Liquor control commissioner for Venice. A new date has not yet been announced.

Barton on state real estate examining panel

Robert C. Barton of Granite City, a real estate broker and building contractor, is the newest member of the Real Estate Examining Committee of the Illinois Department of Registration and Education.

His appointment was made by Mrs. Joan G. Anderson, the department's director, who announced it Wednesday in Chicago.

Barton becomes one of the five real estate brokers on the seven-member departmental committee. The other two, by Illinois law, are "representatives of the public at large."

The committee makes recommendations to the director on the issuance and removal of real estate licenses, as well as general policy matters, and sets standards for and approves — with the director's approval — real estate schools and real estate courses in various educational institutions.

Real estate brokers and salesmen comprise one of 32 professions, trades and occupational groups licensed and regulated by the department.

Barton, 34, has been a real estate licensee for the last decade. In 1973, he opened his own real estate business and has specialized in residential and commercial property.

A realtor, he is a member of the National Association of Realtors, Illinois Association of

City drops fight against proposed new restaurant

Developers of a proposal to build a Taco Bell Restaurant at 2021 Johnson Road — a move that was blocked by the city's refusal to rezone the property — won their year-long fight at a meeting of the City Council Tuesday night.

Council members, by an 8 to 5 vote on a motion by Alderman Charles Douglas, instructed its city attorney to withdraw the appellate court appeal of a Circuit Court decision which instructed the aldermen to grant the rezoning.

The highly controversial issue in which the council has been split on whether the restaurant should or should not be built took a new turn in Tuesday night's meeting after Douglas said that while he had been one of the aldermen who voted in favor of appealing the Circuit Court ruling, he had investigated the matter further "and I am now convinced my vote was wrong."

After the City Council rejected a plea for rezoning the restaurant property in October 1976, a suit was filed in Circuit Court in behalf of Guy Lahr, Laurabelle Hayes and Clarence Lahr against all 14 aldermen who were members of the council at that time.

The petition asked the court to issue a writ of mandamus directing the aldermen to rezone the property to the C-1 classification.

Early in November, Circuit Judge Victor J. Mosle ruled against the city. Judge Mosle said at the time that "The City had set the trend in this area," noting the large number of restaurants and commercial businesses on Johnson Road.

In its Nov. 1 meeting, the council voted 8 to 5 to appeal the Circuit Court decision to the Fifth District Appellate Court at Mount Vernon.

Tuesday night's action followed the presentation of a letter from Irvin Slate, assistant city attorney handling the case for the city, noting that the appeal had been completed and that a date was to be set soon for hearing the case.

After telling the council that he believed his own vote on the appeal was wrong, Alderman Douglas moved that Slate be instructed to withdraw the appeal.

Several aldermen objected to dropping the appeal. Alderman Ronald Coleman of the Seventh Ward, recalled that petitions signed by 380 persons protested the rezoning and that "for that reason I will vote no (on dropping the appeal)."

Gerald Parmley, alderman of Ward Six said, "The people let me know how they felt about it. We have gone on record to appeal the case and I think we should continue 'along that line.'"

Alderman Glen Sprankle, however, noted that he was opposed to the appeal and favored the rezoning originally. "Nearly everything else in that area already is zoned commercially anyway," he said.

Sam Whitmer, alderman of Ward Two, said he did not believe that the council could withdraw the appeal on a motion requiring a simple majority vote, and that it would be necessary for the council to vote first to reconsider its previous action in ordering the appeal be taken.

City Attorney Lance Callis, however, told the aldermen that a legal case is before the council at any time and that it was proper to act in the matter with a regular motion.

In a roll call vote on Douglas' motion to withdraw the appeal, those voting against it were Whitmer, Parmley, Coleman, Roy Foulos and Paul Bowler. Voting in favor were Douglas, Sprankle, Warren Decatur, Everett Morien, Elsie Baker, Lloyd Bailey, Mrs. Margaret Nonn and Fred Schuman Jr.

Alderman Clyde Boyd was absent.

now means that we are going to have to lay off employees later on," he said.

"I think you two (Schuler and Portell) should get together on this work the problem out. We don't want to have to lay off."

Warren Decatur, alderman of Ward Four, remarked, "This is the season to be jolly, but the way things are -- I don't know. Since April we've added six people at the pollution plant (sewage treatment plant) and with salaries and fringe benefits, that's costing us $98,000 a year."

"I don't think we should single out any one department. I think we should have an overall belt tightening."

Alderman Sam Whitmer said he hopes that "your (the mayor's) office and the street department can get together."

Lloyd Bailey, alderman of Ward Five, told the council "I would like to see" this straightened out. It seems that every meeting we come to there are some kinds of criticisms or remarks about the street department. Every meeting I have attended there have been bad comments."

He related as an example a call he received from the police department at 3 a.m. Tuesday informing him a tree was down and blocking a street.

"I thought I could let it go until morning, but I received a second call from the police and they said it was an emergency, so I called someone to take care of it. How are you going to eliminate the overtime in a case like that?" Portell asked.

"Our pumping (at sewer breaks) has been a fixed cost and a lot of it is emergency nature," Portell said.

"If this is the hard line that you are going to take, what are we to do when we do have an emergency? I'll need an answer to this question," Portell said.

Schuler noted that it is necessary for him to "know what is going on."

Portell replied that "I think reports have been made, but you haven't got them. I'll discuss this with you."

Alderman Gerald Parmley, Sixth Ward, said he thought any failure to cut back any place possible is a threat "because we are going to need every bit of money we have during the next few months to meet our budget obligations."

"Spending too much overtime

Friedman

companies have joined Chromalloy American, which had its administrative world headquarters in Clayton.

Worldwide employment with the corporation is expected to exceed 33,000 with about 4,000 working at headquarters or affiliated companies in the St. Louis area, as a result of companies added this year, and internal growth.

Mr. Friedman founded the Project for a Prosperous America, which included building trade union leaders, businessmen and economists, to seek better ways to improve the economy in America.

The goal of the organization was to try to influence government, improve the economy and eliminate needless and costly business regulations. He was scheduled to meet with the mayor Tuesday in Washington but was advised to stay in the hospital for further medical tests.

Mr. Friedman invested $100,000 in Chromalloy in 1956 with the stipulation he wanted the presidency if he succeeded in making the company profitable. If he had failed they would owe him nothing; 17 months later he had turned the company into a money-maker.

In the last fiscal year its sales reached a record $937.2 million and this year it is expected to top $1 billion.

He was born in Philadelphia in 1906, spent most of his early years here, residing in Madison for about 40 years. Mr. Friedman began his business career in the 1930s as a newspaper publisher and in the mid-1930s he invested in the Band Box Corp., where he became vice-president and general manager.

Following his association with that corporation, Mr. Friedman served for 20 years as an officer of the U.S. Hoffman Machinery Corp., retiring from there in 1956 as executive vice-president and director.

Two months after his retirement, Mr. Friedman began his involvement with the Chromalloy firm.

Mr. Friedman's active participation in community service includes chairmanship of the Chromalloy Kidney Clinic in St. Louis, and memberships on the board of directors of the Weizmann Institute of Science, the American Medical Center in Denver, and the Kidney Foundation of Missouri and Metro-East.

He also was a member of the American Society for Technicians, the Friars Club of New York, Wings Club of New York, Missouri Athletic Club, Meadowbrook Country Club, Mission Hills Country Club and B'nai B'rith.

Mr. Friedman accepted membership on the St. Elizabeth Hospital board in October this year.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Lily Mae Friedman; two daughters, Mrs. Irvin (maiden name) Goldfarb, and Mrs. Stephanie Lipnick; one son, Dr. William H. Friedman; six grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Two brothers, Dr. David Friedman and E. A. Friedman preceded him in death.

Funeral services for Mr. Friedman will be held at 11:30 a.m. Friday at the Share Zedek temple, 828 N. Hanley Road, University City.

Burial will be at the B'nai A'Moona Cemetery, University City.

Gary and Dixie Johnson of the 2600 block of Grand Avenue are about to get a Christmas gift from the state, and will find out today in Springfield how much they are going to get.

Mrs. Johnson is among 15 persons from throughout the state who purchased winning tickets in the bonanza game of the Illinois State Lottery and have earned at least $5,000, but all will be matched today in Springfield for a drawing to determine whether their winnings are as high as $200,000.

Drawings will be held to determine a $100,000 winner, a $25,000 runner-up, and three $2,500 third-place winners. If the color drawn matches the color on the winning ticket, the prize for that ticket will be doubled.

Gary Johnson said yesterday that he and his wife plan to go to Springfield today for the drawing. He said they are very excited about the event, but do not know what they will do with the winnings, if they win a large prize.

He noted they have two daughters who are grown and do not live at home. One is a nurse at Barnes Hospital in St. Louis and the other works in a nursing home in Matteson, Ill.

Mrs. Johnson purchased her winning lottery ticket at Schewe's Corner in Granite City and she qualified by matching the two and three-digit numbers and color on her weekly 50-cent bonanza ticket with those drawn for that week.

The regular weekly numbers in the bonanza and gold strike games also will be drawn during the Springfield ceremony, according to Richard W. Carlson, Illinois State Lottery superintendent.

Holiday blood needs are vital

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

When someone needs a blood transfusion, it isn't miraculously produced by the hospital — any hospital.

In order for the blood to be available to you, it would have been donated a few days earlier, then tested and processed by the Red Cross Blood Center in St. Louis.

Unfortunately, accidents and surgeries don't take a vacation and the need for blood continues during Christmas and the New Year's holiday.

In fact, most times the demand for blood is greater than in normal times.

It's no holiday when you need blood and there are hospitalized patients whose lives depend on it.

To keep blood supplies at an adequate level during the holiday period, Church Women United in the Quad-Cities has scheduled a three-day visit here next week by the Red Cross Bloodmobile.

The bloodmobile will be stationed at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, Pontoon and Johnson roads, from 2 p.m. to 7 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 27, 28 and 29.

Anyone can give blood who is 17 years or over, weighs more than 110 pounds and is in good health.

High school students are a generous source of blood and older persons give more than their share.

It takes about 45 minutes to give if and is a big deal for the donor. But it is a very big deal for the person on the receiving end.

When one needs blood, either under an emergency condition or in the course of surgery, most people don't stop to think about who was responsible for supplying that blood.

The Red Cross doesn't supply the blood, nor do the hospitals. Only people can supply the blood for other people.

Blood cannot be manufactured. It comes only from human beings who care enough about other human beings to recycle part of their lives.

What makes blood such a valuable community resource is that it has become widely used in therapy during the last 10 years, producing cures one thought were impossible.

Since the introduction of component therapy, one unit of blood has been used to treat as many as four different patients.

In addition, each of the component parts — red cells, white cells, platelets and plasma — can be used in treating many diseases.

Physicians give patients only that part of the blood best suited to treat a particular illness.

Blood is being utilized more economically, but it also is being used in ever increasing quantities.

The crucial reason for seeking blood in the midst of the holiday season is the need to continue production of blood platelets.

A blood platelet is a plugger and absolutely vital to life. They are produced in quantities by a healthy body.

A platelet cannot be manufactured by the bodies of leukemia and cancer patients undergoing chemotherapy, because the drugs which fight these diseases cannot distinguish between healthy tissue and unhealthy tissue.

While chemotherapy is destroying the diseased cells, it is also destroying the person's bone marrow, where platelets are produced.

Patients with aplastic anemia also are unable to produce their own platelets because the disease itself causes dysfunction in platelet production.

Because these patients cannot make their own platelets, they must depend on transfusions of this blood component from other people.

The blood needs of the cancer and leukemia patients alone, apart from surgery and accident cases, go on despite it being Christmas.

The Missouri-Illinois Regional Red Cross Blood Program makes 150 platelets each weekday and 85 each Saturday to meet this need.

The average adult usage is eight to 10 platelet units per transfusion, while some very ill patients may need as many as 20 to 30 units daily.

There are three problems the Red Cross faces in producing platelets.

One is that it can take no longer than 10 minutes for a donor to give blood.

If it takes even a few seconds longer to make a donation, blood that had been scheduled for platelet production will have to be used for something else.

The second problem is that if platelets are to be made from whole blood, the plasma must be separated from the red cells within four hours after the blood is collected.

This time factor means that a blood collection site can be no longer than an hour's drive from the Red Cross Blood Center at 4050 Lindell Blvd., St. Louis. If platelets are to be made from its blood.

This is one reason the collection at St. Elizabeth Hospital next week is a vital part of the overall program.

The most important factor relating to platelet production and usage is that they must be transfused within 72 hours after their production.

A three-day weekend is 72 hours.

The problem becomes clear. A three-day weekend eliminates the production of many platelet units that will be crucially needed during the first few days of the following week.

Blood donors are urgently needed in the three-day drive next week to make up for the losses of blood during the holidays.

The community's blood supply must be maintained — holiday or no holiday — and it won't be there for any of us unless people put it there.

Another church joins Lutheran high school

The Lutheran High School Association has association with the addition of Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, Collinsville.

Good Shepherd joins other churches in the area as founding members of the first Lutheran high school in Southern Illinois.

Other Lutheran churches belonging to the association include Concordia in Granite City, Holy Cross in Collinsville, St. John's in Marysville, St. Paul in Wood River, St. Peter's in Caseyville, Trinity in Edwardsville and Unity in East St. Louis. These churches represent 5,500 Lutherans.

The new Lutheran school is in the middle of its first year of operation. It is in interim facilities at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Wood River.

The freshman class at the school consists of students from Caseyville, Collinsville, Edwardsville, Granite City and Wood River.

An additional freshman class will be added each year until 1980, when the school will be in full operation with all four high school level classes.

Enrollment for next year's freshman and sophomore classes begins in January. Additional information can be secured from: Metro East Lutheran High School, 1327 Vaughn Road, Wood River, Ill. The phone number is 258-7285.

The high school is committed to "aiding young people grow in their faith and helping them do that which faith requires."

These objectives are pursued by "combining the word of God with a quality program of education," school officials say.

Textbook schedule

Students attending classes at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville during the winter quarter may pick up their textbooks beginning Dec. 28, according to James Oglesby, supervisor of Textbook Service.

The winter quarter schedule for textbook issues for on-campus courses will be:

After Jan. 10, Textbook Service will return to regularly scheduled hours, Oglesby said. It is located in the basement of Lowjoy Library.

Winter quarter classes will begin Jan. 3 at 4:30 p.m.

Metric conversion at hospital is completed

Total metric conversion will occur Jan. 1 at St. Elizabeth Hospital, one of the first hospitals in the St. Louis metropolitan area to make the shift from the customary system of measurement, Pharmacy Director David E. Davis said Tuesday.

Davis, who headed the hospital-metric conversion committee, said that all temperatures, weights and other measurements will be recorded in metric values.

For nine months, the hospital has used a dual scale of measurement. Through a phasing-in program, all methods of measurements have now been converted.

Drug orders are placed, temperatures are recorded and graphic sheets are charted according to the metric system.

Emergency aid speeded by CB

By JON C. LYBARGER
Public Information Officer
Illinois State Police
Maryville District

"That's a big 10-4, good buddy" may not be proper police terminology, but the CB good buddies are acting as eyes for the Illinois State Police by having their ears on.

The National Emergency Aid Radio system is in effect for travelers in the state of Illinois. The acronym NEAR has been adopted to identify citizen band radios with highway safety: help is NEAR.

NEAR serves to reduce response time in emergencies by adding to the means available to the citizen through which he can call for help.

It will allow the motorist to receive information as well as to report conditions. NEAR will enlarge the citizen's role in highway safety and make all types of emergency service more available.

The improved service will be a result of an effective monitoring of the Citizen Radio Service Emergency Channel (Channel 9).

The Illinois State Police division was designated as the lead agency for development and implementation of the NEAR Program in Illinois.

The Illinois NEAR Plan is the first federally-funded program to use CB in an organized effort to reduce emergency service agencies' response time to traffic accidents and other calls for help.

At this time, CB radios have been installed in approximately 90 percent of the Illinois State Police squad cars, using KIL 0911 as their call sign and a CB base in all state police headquarters.

Each squad car radio is a 40-channel transmitter with a receiver capable of alternately scanning Channel 9 plus any selected channel (generally Channel 19).

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD Thurs., Dec. 22, 1977 Page 11

To report an emergency, turn to Channel 9 and call State Police KIL 0911.

If a trooper is close by and CB equipped, you should receive an immediate response.

If there is no response, contact a base station and give information to be relayed to authorities by phone.

When reporting an emergency, there are two important steps to follow. First, verify the fact that an emergency exists.

Second, speak in "plain language." Not all police codes are the same, so avoid confusion or misunderstanding by speaking in normal, everyday language.

To report a traffic accident, give the exact location. This includes the highway which the collision occurred and at least one reference point, such as the distance from a nearby town, intersecting highway, river, bridge or other known landmark or mile marker.

On divided roadways, side/direction of travel is especially helpful.

Report whether injuries have been sustained and whether or not an ambulance is needed at the scene. Report whether the road is blocked by debris or vehicles, and if there is a fire or other potential hazard.

Also report the drinking or reckless driver. Again, be sure and report the exact location and direction of travel.

Give the color, make and model of the vehicle and the license number, including the state of issue. The number of occupants can be helpful to authorities.

The National Safety Council estimates the United States has 122 million drivers and approximately 96 million adults 18 years and older who drink alcohol.

The problem arises when they try to do both at the same time. The CBer now has a means of helping to solve this type of problem before it's too late.

KIL 0911 down and on the side!

Openings in chorus

Members of the community who like to sing are being invited to join the Community Choral Society at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, according to Leonard Van Camp, professor of music there and director of the Concert Chorus.

Members pay a nominal membership fee, purchase their own music and furnish their own concert attire, he said.

In the past, the songsters have appeared with the St. Louis Symphony, St. Louis Philharmonic Orchestra and SIUE University Orchestra, performing such masterworks as Haydn's "Creation," Mendelssohn's "Elijah," Mozart's "Requiem," Brahms' "Requiem," and Carl Orff's "Carmina Burana."

The group has also performed Schumann's "A Free Song," Brahms' "Naele," Vaughn Williams' "Hodie" and Vivaldi's "Chamber Mass."

Van Camp said the next concert will contain some lighter music that might appeal to many singers, including tunes from Broadway shows and movies — music of such greats as Irving Berlin, Sigmund Romberg and Richard Rodgers.

Along with the University Symphony Orchestra, the group will perform Walton's "Belshazzar's Feast" in the spring.

To learn more about the SIUE Community Choral Society, Van Camp says, Quad-Cityans may telephone 882-3399 or attend the next rehearsal on Tuesday, Jan. 3.

The Choral Society will hold its rehearsal Jan. 3 in Room 1402 of Peck Classroom Building at 7:30 p.m.

There are no auditions, and membership is open to anyone who has an interest in singing.

The four-voice choral group usually attracts more than 100 members each year, ranging from those who have had musical training to those who have had none. Amateurs are welcome, Van Camp noted.

During the years the choral group has been in existence, people from all walks of life have participated in its program. Members include elementary teachers, engineers, students, ministers, housewives, factory workers, store clerks, farmers and husband and wife teams.

Despite the fact that many of the songsters are amateurs, they have continued to maintain a high performance level, according to Phil Calcagno, president of the Choral Society and serials librarian at SIUE's Lovejoy Library.

PAMPHLET ON HUMAN WILDLIFE POPULATIONS

If a pair of field mice can produce six baby mice 17 times a year—which they can—then in just a few months two mice would become millions. So why isn't the earth overrun with mice?

The explanation can be found in a new six-page publication entitled "Populations," available free of charge for the first copy and ten cents per copy thereafter from the National Wildlife Federation, Box RRP, 1415 16th St., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20006.

Designed to teach children about the relationship between population and environment, the four-color pamphlet points out that man has found ways to avoid the "natural controls" that limit other animal populations. But, it concludes, "man is beginning to see that the earth's resources are limited that his population cannot increase forever."

Pioneers hand Devils their fourth loss, 53-49

ANTHONY WISE (23) of Venice holds on to the ball Tuesday night as Assumption's Andrew Jones (14) goes for the steal. The Red Devils lost to the Pioneers, 53-49.

(Press-Record Photo)

By PETE HAYES

Press-Record Sports Editor
The games keep getting closer and closer for Ken Perkins' Venice Red Devils. At this rate, they could be on the winning rack soon. But they weren't Tuesday night at home against East St. Louis Assumption.

After losing a 14-point decision to Flora Saturday night, the Red Devils came to within four points Tuesday in falling to the Pioneers, 53-49.

"I REALLY thought we had them this time," said Venice head coach Ken Perkins. "But I'll tell you, by the end of the season, by golly, we'll be there."

Perkins seemed to be less distraught after the Tuesday loss than he had been Saturday. "I've really got a lot of respect for these guys," he said. "When things got tough, they gave it all they had."

It took a little while for the things to get tough. The Devils held a one-point lead at the end of the first quarter ... but it was only an 8-7 margin.

MIDWAY through the first stanza, with the Devils up 8-2, Venice went into, of all things, a four-corner stall. Why?

"Well, Assumption was starting to run on us," said Perkins. "And that's the last thing we wanted to do with them."

"So we tried the slow-down game, trying to bring them out of that 2-1-2 zone defense they had thrown up against us."

The plan backfired. After successfully controlling the ball for over a minute and a half, Venice, turned it over to Assumption when Pioneer Andrew Jones stole a Red Devil pass near the half-court line. He went in untouched for a layup.

THE SECOND PERIOD warmed up a little more. With Jones and David Green popping in 30-footers, the Pioneers quickly found themselves with the lead. But the Devils weren't going to lie down and die ... not this time.

With Anthony Wise and Rick Salmond keeping the Devils in the game with their scoring and Salmond and Frank Pace crashing the boards for crucial rebounds, Venice managed to trail by only eight at halftime, 30-22.

Early in the fourth quarter, the Devils got as close as they were going to get ... and you can't get much closer. They climbed to within two.

At the 3:18 mark, Terry Arnold got his own rebound after missing a 10-footer and laid it in to bring the Devils to within two points, 42-40.

Just 30 seconds later, Don Gardner made one end of a one-and-one free throw situation that brought Venice within one, 42-41. That was a close as the Devils would get.

WITH ASSUMPTION scoring nine of the next 13 points, the Pioneers pulled away to a 51-44 showing on the clock.

The Pioneers then went into a four-corner stall. When Reggie Mathis fouled Jones (and fouled out in the process) it looked as if it could be all over with 59 seconds left in the game. But it wasn't quite over yet.

With 16 seconds left, Rick Salmond was fouled by Assumption's Clyde Stewart. Salmond made both ends of the one-and-one situation. The Red Devils were within four points, 51-47.

VENICE's Terry Arnold then stole the in-bounds pass by the Pioneers and bounced the ball out-of-bounds off an Assumption player's knee. Heart attack time.

But Arnold then committed a turnover that he would never forget. When passing the ball in-bounds, he stepped over the end-line ... Pioneers' ball ... the rally was dead.

Both teams scored baskets in the final eight seconds, but Derek Mathis' 10-footer at the buzzer wasn't enough.

"BOY, we almost had 'em," Perkins restated. "If we hadn't have turned it over, made a basket, it would have been a two-point ball game."

"But I'm not going to blame anybody," he said. "If these guys play like this every game, I'm not going to complain."

"We're going to win some ball games."

Venice will have its next chance at winning one Monday when it plays New Athens in the Columbia Christmas tournament at 9:30 p.m.

Plans have been finalized for the first annual Granite City Invitational Holiday Hockey Tournament to be held on Monday, Dec. 26, through Saturday, Dec. 31, at the Wilson Park Ice rink.

The tournament is being sponsored by the Press-Record, the Granite City Park District and the Granite City Hockey Association. It will be conducted on a round-robin basis, with each team being guaranteed three games in the tournament.

"WE'RE LOOKING forward to a great tournament," said tournament director Joe Hassler. "This is a great way for these kids to play against some good competition, and it will give them something to do during the Christmas holidays."

Hassler has had the task of getting teams together for the tournament. It hasn't been an easy job.

"We've got 24 teams in the tournament," said Hassler. All of them are from the St. Louis metropolitan area and, of course, a number represent Granite City.

"At first, we were going to try and get some teams from the Houston, Texas, area, and Canada. But they needed to know about a year in advance, so we're making plans now to have them here next year for the tournament."

THE TEAMS that are entered in this year's tournament included squads from Kirkwood, Olivette, Clayton, Valle, Affton, St. Charles, Florissant, Missouri, Della and Webster Groves in Missouri and teams from Granite City.

Play will be conducted and championships determined in two Squire (ages 9 and 10) divisions (red and white), and in Pee Wee (ages 11 and 12) White, Banham (ages 13 and 14) Gold and Junior (ages 17 and 18) Red divisions.

Sixteen high school wrestling teams from all regions of the state of Illinois and from Missouri are planning to gather at Granite City High School South next week for the annual South holiday wrestling tournament.

Among those teams will be Granite City North's Steelers and, of course, the hosts, Granite City South's Warriors.

This year's event will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 28 and 29.

The first session Wednesday will be at noon and the second will begin at 7 p.m.

On Thursday, Dec. 29, the first session will also begin at noon, with the final session at 6 p.m. All bouts will be held in Memorial Gymnasium on the South campus.

Among the 16 teams entered in this year's tourney are River View Gardens, Hazelwood Central, McCluer, Normandy and Ritenour from Missouri and Roxana, Belleville East, Jacksonville, Wood River, East St. Louis, Lincoln, Cahokia, Pekin, Bloomington and Stephen Decatur from Illinois in addition to Granite City North and South.

Bouts will be held in the 98, 105, 112, 119, 126, 132, 138, 145, 167, 185 and unlimited weight classes.

A complete list of the pairings for the tournament's first round will be printed in Tuesday's Press-Record Sports.

Trojans seeded second?

Tournament, one would have to expect them to be the number one seed. Right?

Wrong. The Trojans are seeded second behind highly-regarded Nashville in the Mater Dei Tourney, slated to begin next Tuesday with eight games involving 16 teams. It will be conducted on a double-elimination basis.

Nashville's Hornets are also unbeaten and have made a shambles of their opponents enroute to a 6-0 record. They stand 6-0 at the center position and 6-4 and 6-2 at the forwards and are a formidable wall to their opponents.

"It really doesn't matter to me whether or not we're the number one seed," said Madison coach Larry Graham.

"I think I know why they did it. They want to draw as many people as they can to the game, and Nashville is much closer to Breese than we are."

"Also, they put us and Mater Dei in the second bracket so as to draw people to the evening games."

"Besides, Nashville's got a heck of a team."

If all goes as expected, the two downstate powerhouses will clash for the tournament championship Thursday night.

'March Madness' has a long, prestigious history of joy and sorrow — and a distinct increase in the heart-beat. It is not fatal, and yet everyone who catches it is infected for life.

Since 1908, when Peoria High School beat Rock Island 48-29 at the Oak Park YMCA Gym in the first state basketball tournament, Illinois in the vernacular of the times is "up for grabs" until a new state champion is decided.

THE LATE LEWIS OMER, then athletic director of Oak Park High School, originated the idea of the state tournament. Thirteen teams were invited.

The next year, following Omer's suggestion, the infant Illinois High School Athletic Association took over the venture, which has emerged as one of the most widely publicized and competitive state prep tournament series in the nation. The 1909 tournament was held in the Bloomington YMCA Gym. Two years later, Bradley University was the site for the state tournament, and Rockford High School belted Mt. Carroll 60-15 for the championship.

Since 1963, the University's concrete "flying saucer" — Assembly Hall, with a seating capacity of 15,877 — has been the site of the state tournament. CHANGES IN PLAYING format of the tournament have generally spawned increased fan interest and availability of tickets, since the first "sweet sixteen" in 1924.

In 1936, the series of competition was established to include tournament play at the district, regional, sectional and "sweet sixteen" level.

In 1941, a one-year experiment with a four-team state final was conducted.

Next significant change came in 1958, when the present system of eight super-sectional encounters began producing an "elite eight" set of finalists who advance to Champaign for the statewide televised state tournament.

The two-class system was initiated in 1972 with state-record-shattering Dolton (Thornridge) taking the Class AA (for schools with enrollments of 751 or more) title. Lawrenceville claimed the Class A (for schools with enrollments of 750 or less) trophy.

The awards have become among the most highly-sought schoolboy trophies in the nation. Members of the first field of 16 included champion Quincy, runner-up Thornton (Harvey), third-place Equality, fourth-place Moline, Champaign, Urbana, Streator, Peoria (H.S.), Springfield, Lawrenceville, Marion, Freeport, Charleston, Centralia, Chicago (Marshall) and Chicago (Lane Tech).

The 16-team field for the last single-class competition included: champion Thornridge, runner-up Oak Lawn, third-place Danville, fourth-place Springfield (Langhorne), Benton, Rockford (Boylan), Quincy (Catholic Boys), Granite City, Chicago (Harlan), Kewanee, Elgin (Larkin), Nashville, Winnetka (New Trier East), Paris, Normal (University High) and Peoria (Woodruff).

THE FIRST STATE CHAMPION crowned in Champaign was Rockford, coached by Frank Winters, which bounced Springfield, 32-20.

First champion in Huff Gym was Coach Glenn Holme's Freeport Pretzels, who edged Canton, 24-13. Initial champion in the Assembly Hall was Chicago (Carver), as Coach Larry Hawkins' Challengers, who took second the year before, beat Centralia 53-52 on a fantastic shot from the corner at the horn by tiny guard Anthony Smalley.

The only district champion to win the title, after smaller schools were placed into district competition in 1983, was the famous 1962 Hebron team, that boasted the tall and talented Judson twins, Phil and Paul, along with 6-7½ center Bill Schulz.

Hebron, a school with an enrollment of only 90, outscored Quincy by a 6-1 margin in overtime to take the championship, 64-59.

Other district teams to reach the final game were Braidwood in 1938 and the gigantic Cobden Appleknockers of 1964. Cobden, with a lineup that included the 6'6" Neal brothers, Chuck and Jim, and the equally big Smith cousins, Ken and Jim, lost to the Dave Golden-led Pekin Chinks, 50-45.

PERHAPS THE GREATEST game EVER in the Illinois state tournament history was the 1945 quarterfinal match between Decatur and Galesburg. The Runnin' Reds finally captured a 73-72 overtime victory, but only after the score was tied and the lead changed hands an incredible 33 — count 'em, 33 — times.

One of the most devastating performances by a team in a single game has to be Thornridge's 35-point (104-69) victory over Quincy in the first Class AA title game in 1972. That victory for the Boyd Bates-Quinn Buckner spearheaded Falcons was No. 54 in the school's 58-game state record winning streak.

Among the most memorable individual performances were those by Granite City's Andy Philip in 1940; Dwight "Duke" Eddleman's single-handed victory for Centralia in 1942; Max Hooper's total of 57 points in back-to-back title games to give Mt. Vernon the 1949 and '50 championships.

Also, George Wilson's smooth-as-silk play at center for Chicago Marshall in 1956, and again in 1960; Collingwood's Bogie Redman in the Kishoks' 32-0 season that concluded with an 84-56 win over Thornton (Thornridge) in 1981; and the all-time tournament scoring performance of 6-9 Dave Robisch of Springfield in 1907.

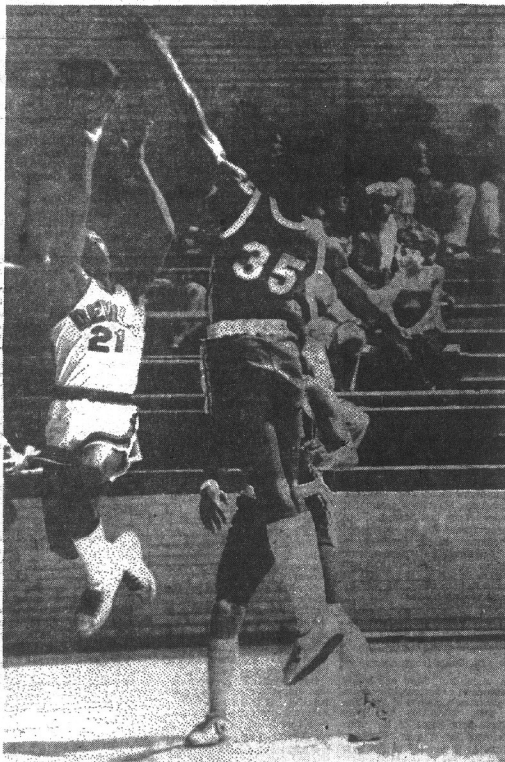

In 1974, Lawrenceville became the first school since the origination of the two-class system to claim a second title in Class A competition.

Cosch Ron Felling's Indians, led by forward Rick Leighty, fought off Ottawa Marquette's comeback bid to win 54-53 in what was at the time the closest title game in Class A's brief history.

In 1976, when America

Cougar cagers off to fast start; Walco scoring at 9.3 per game clip

DEREK MATHIS (21) of Venice goes up for a shot against Assumption's Darrell Glenn (35). Mathis made good on this attempt, but his team came up just short as they lost to the Pioneers, 53-49. (Press-Record Photo)

Off to their best start ever, the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville basketball Cougars are playing at a clip which places them in five of the 10 statistical categories recorded weekly by the National Collegiate Athletic Association's official basketball statistics.

Now 4-0 after tromping the University of Illinois, Chicago Circle Chicks 95-60 Saturday, the Cougar cagers of Coach Jim Dudley have only one individual in the NCAA division two stats — Vince Barnett, with 11.8 rebounds per game. This is the lanky (6-7) senior from Decatur with Tony Faehr of Northern Kentucky for ninth place among rebounders.

All the rest of SIUE's scoring figures show the Cougars' main strength is in team effort. Sixth in scoring defense, the Cougars have held their four opponents to just 66 points while averaging 84.8 themselves, which also places them fifth in "scoring margins."

The Cougars' 84.8 points per game average edges Western Illinois' 84.6 per-game-average. Bennie Lewis Jr., a junior college transfer who played his prep basketball for his father at Lincoln High in East St. Louis, is the Cougars' per-game high scorer with an even 20 points per contest. In the process, he's shooting a blazing .559 from the floor.

Next to Lewis is SIUE's junior point guard, Kell Peebles, who slipped out of the lead for the first time in two years as his average dropped to 17.8 per game. However, the 5-9 guard from Johnston City leads the Cougars in assists with 24.

In third place in the scoring parade is senior Vince Barnett, scoring at a red-hot 11.9 points-per-game clip while pulling down 11.8 rebounds per game, tops for the squad.

Hobbled by injuries his first three years at SIUE, Barnett has looked nothing less than terrific. The Decatur native appears determined to wipe out the "nice guy" image he's been tagged with in previous seasons.

And, the fans love it. Another junior college (Lewis & Clark) transfer, Mike Walco, is averaging 9.3 points per game. The Granite City North High grad not only can score, but also loves to play defense.

The Cougars' gentle giant, 6-9 Jim Allen, who played his prep basketball at Morrisonville, also has been playing as if Dudley had put him on a "mean pill" schedule. Allen is scoring eight points per game and grabbing off 6.3 caroms per contest.

Bill Branz, the nearest to being the Cougars' candidate for the title of "hatchet man," is scoring at an 8.3 point-per-game average and grabbing off almost ten (9.8) rebounds per game. At 220 pounds, he finds few opposing players able to move him out of position under both baskets.

Jeff Verstraete, another junior college transfer and native of Rock Island, is scoring at a 4.5 average. He's battling it out with Walco for a starter's berth.

The Cougar cagers will continue workouts the remainder of this week although most SIUE students are home for the holidays. Coach Dudley wants his charges ready for the Lake Shore Cage Classic in Chicago Dec. 28, 29 and 30.

After the tourney in Chicago, REINHARDT-Realtor Sells—BETTER LIVING!

North will also be in action tomorrow night. They will face Parkway West in a meet that was set for last Saturday, but was forced to be postponed because of a conflict in scheduling. That will be a home meet for the Steelers and will begin at 6 p.m. Bouts will be held in both the junior varsity and varsity levels.

March madness

celebrated its Bicentennial, fans in the Assembly hall were treated to: (1) the greatest all-time individual scoring performance in the long history of the tournament series; (2) a pair of championship games that will long be remembered for their dramatic one-point conclusions.

LAWRENCEVILLE'S SENIOR GUARD Jay Shidler dazzled those in attendance and the television audience with games of 37, 48 and 45 points.

Those scoring outbursts, plus a 27-point effort in the Charleston super-sectional, brought the "Golden Gunner" or "Bionic Boy," as the press labeled him, the all-time tournament individual scoring record of 157 points.

Needing 41 points to set the mark in the third-place game, Shidler became the darling of the sellout crowd as each of his shots sailed toward the basket.

When he scored tournament point No. 153, the building rocked with approval.

But Shidler's performance was only a prelude to a spine-tingling tilt between eventual champion Mt. Pulaski—a school that has grown in enrollment and came late through consolidation with nearby Elkhart—and Owens (ROVA).

ROVA led 35-34 at halftime and 46-45 after three quarters. Mt. Pulaski moved ahead 55-54 with 2:35 to play and then the lead changed four times in the next 118 seconds.

Finally, with 42 seconds to go, Mt. Pulaski's senior sophomore Jeff Clements (who scored 10 of his team's last 10 points) fired through what proved to be the clincher. ROVA worked for one final shot, trying to get the ball into 6-8 center Dave Johnson, but could not master the Mt. Pulaski defense.

With six seconds left, Dwight Peterson fired up a 16-foot jump shot and missed, and Johnson saw the rebound slip off his

Chicago WEEK LATER

Chicago (Morgan Park), trailing the entire game, nipped Aurora (West) 45-44 when Laird Smith got the tip from teammate Levi Cobb on a jump ball situation and fired through a jump shot from the right of the free throw circle as the ball fell through the net and the scoreboard clock registered 0:00.

Trailing 32-26 after three quarters, Morgan Park put on a fourth-quarter rally that is ranked as one of the greatest in IHSA state tournament history.

In 1977, the IHSA launched its first statewide series in basketball for girls, with 478 schools outside the Chicago Public League entering teams in the single-class competition.

Sterling (H.S.) captured the first-ever girls' championship with a 52-38 win over Washington at Horton Fieldhouse, Normal. This season, the Assembly Hall in Champaign will become the home of the girls state final tournament.

Price—Missile force may become vulnerable

Many members of Congress have been concerned about actions of the White House in canceling or delaying key weapons programs. The members have expressed objections on purely military grounds, but some have looked farther and have noted inconsistency in Administration defense and disarmament policies. Congressman Melvin Price, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, sent the following letter to President Carter in which the chairman raised that issue:

Dear Mr. President:

I am writing to express my deep concern over recent Administration decisions which, in my judgment, could seriously impair the strategic defense posture of the United States.

As you can appreciate, I personally found it difficult to accept your recommendation of June 30, 1977, to terminate production of the B-1 aircraft. As a long-term member of the Armed Services Committee, I have observed the United States' effort over the past 16 years to build a follow-on to the B-52 strategic bomber. I have listened to many defense witnesses, military and civilian, relate over the years the need for an advanced manned strategic aircraft. To this very day, the Department of Defense still believes in the firm requirement for a manned penetrating bomber through the 1980s and beyond and is at present exploring such options as the FB-111H to replace the B-52.

I have attempted to comprehend the rationale behind the combination of decisions leading to cancellation of the B-1, cancellation of production of the Short Range Attack Missile (SCRAM), terminating production of the Minuteman III Missile and the reduction in funds for the development of the advanced M-X missile system. The Committee on Armed Services, at my urging, has heard Department of Defense witnesses and other experts and reviewed Department of Defense reports, past and present, to consider not only additional funds requested for the cruise missile program, but with the cancellation of the B-1, but to examine the general state of our strategic Triad as well. Regrettably, Mr. President, I must inform you that to date the presentations before our committee have demonstrated a lack of adequate correlation between the state requirements and the changes that will be made to our strategic posture by recent Administration decisions.

I am personally concerned about the future of both our manned strategic system, or as it is sometimes referred to the air-breathing leg of the Triad, as well as the land-based missile leg. The evidence to date shows a general consensus of opinion among defense experts that our silos will be vulnerable in the early to mid-1980 time frame. Yet, I observe reduction of funds and a stretch-out in schedule for the M-X — the system which could greatly enhance the survivability of our land-based strategic missile force.

One of my deepest concerns, which I believe is shared by members of the Armed Services Committee, is the seeming lack of correlation and adequate interchange between those in the military departments principally concerned for our strategic capability and those elsewhere in the Administration principally responsible for preparation of proposals for and participation in SALT (arms limitation) negotiations.

For example, while admittedly the cruise missile will contribute greatly toward military posture, it could be seriously constrained should the Soviets accept the United States SALT proposal because of the 2,500 kilometer range limit. Our hearings indicate that the deep anxiety of defense planners over such constraints are not fully understood by the people managing United States arms negotiations.

I know we share the same objective: precluding a nuclear exchange between the Soviet Union and the United States, providing deterrent capability to assure that nuclear weapons will never be used and, equally important, assuring that a potential adversary will never gain a strategic advantage over us which would allow him to seek the fruits of a military victory by means of nuclear blackmail.

While I intend to urge my committee to report promptly a supplemental authorization for the cruise missile and related strategic improvements, in line with the Congressional timetable for the fiscal 1978 budget, I am going to ask the committee to continue to review the strategic posture of the United States and to examine further into viability of the Triad decades ahead. It is my hope that, working with the Administration, we can be prepared at the time the fiscal 1979 defense program is considered to begin to provide those systems necessary to insure a halt to the trend that sees the United States falling behind the strategic might of the Soviets. I ask that we prepare a program which will be based on a realistic view on the world as it is, rather than on a hope of negotiations as they might be. I hope the commander-in-chief you will be prepared to listen to all recommendations as to strategic requirements, including those which might come from informed Congressional committees. Likewise, if there is information presently available to Congress that might aid in fully comprehending Administration decisions in the strategic area, I urge that such information be provided promptly to Congress. Finally, I would urge you to do your utmost to require the closest cooperation between officials responsible for SALT proposals and experts, civilian and military, on the nature and capabilities of defense systems. MELVIN PRICE, Chairman House Armed Services Committee

Chouteau budget hearing

The Chouteau Town Board of Trustees met in regular session Monday night and set meeting dates for the first three months of 1978.

Because of the legal holiday Monday, Jan. 2, the board decided to meet Tuesday, Jan. 3. A public hearing to amend the road and bridge and town fund budgets is set for Monday, Jan. 9, and regular meetings will be held Mondays, Jan. 16 and 30, February meetings, also on Mondays, will be Feb. 13 and 27, and March will be the same with board meetings the 13th and 27th. All meetings begin at 7 p.m. in the new town hall on north Thorngate Drive.

There also will be a public hearing on the road and bridge budget on Tuesday, March 28. The board approved salaries and routine bills, but voted to withhold a $14 reimbursement claim from Charles Lexow, township tax assessor, which was believed for business cards. The trustees said they did not feel the township should pay for business cards which were termed "personal greeting cards" by Trustee Tommy Johnson.

The board, after lengthy discussion, decided to purchase $256 worth of custodial chemicals from State Chemical Manufacturing Co., although some board members initially wanted to compare prices with other firms before purchasing the chemicals.

It was indicated a few furnishings still are needed for the new town hall and community center building, including cabinets for the kitchen area, so the trustees agreed to call for a joint meeting of the board and the community development citizens advisory committee after the holidays to discuss purchasing the final furnishings.

A noisy air conditioner unit was discussed and the board decided to wait for the arrival of specifications from the manufacturer before attempting to determine who is responsible for repairing the unit.

GC Jr. Service Christmas party

Mrs. Janet Warren and Mrs. Joellen Harris were hostesses to the annual Christmas dinner party of the Granite City Junior Service Club, held last week at Stan and Biggie's Restaurant, St. Louis.

Club President Mrs. Pam Reed gave the welcoming address and later in the evening conducted a candlelight initiation ceremony for Donna Polivich, Donna Price, Joan Wachter, Rose Ann Bates and Betty Nighossian.

Entertainment chairman, Mrs. Brenda Weekman directed several theme games relating to the holiday season. Prizes were won by Janet Warren, Zoe Mance, Donna Polivich and Sue Riess.

A gift exchange was held and Miss Flora Mae Lensing read "The Night Before Christmas" as part of the program.

The club presented gifts to Mrs. Jean Ann Vrenick and Mrs. Betty Jo Koser, club sponsors. Mrs. Vrenick also won a live poinsettia plant.

Mrs. Reed conducted a short business session announcing the card party and bazaar project was successful and the club gifts to the Logan Pre-School had been delivered. Along with treats, the school received a wagon and tricycle and arrangements were made to have Santa visit the children and present gifts to each one, it was announced.

The Christmas stockings for the babies born during Christmas week were sent to St. Elizabeth Hospital, Mrs. Reed added. Plans were reviewed for singing carols at Anchorage Homes, and a report on providing several children with eye care was submitted.

Miss Lensing invited the group to the January meeting, she will host. Others present were Wilma Edgington, Beverly King, Jamie Staats, Gale McFarland, Donna Sprankie and Faith Holstinger.

Mrs. McComis is holiday hostess

Mrs. Genevieve McComis entertained the Garden Study Club last week in her home, 3701 Franklin Ave., for its holiday gathering.

Christmas arrangements of greenery, ornaments and holly provided the decorations used with a ceramic tree.

A pot-luck luncheon was served to Mesdames Marie Eads, Mary Mang, Norma Crenshaw, Lucille Broyles, Dorothy Miller, Vera Friedel, Clara Winter, Judy Donley and a guest, Marilyn Griffith.

During the afternoon Mrs. McComis gave a program on her trip to the Holy Land this fall and showed many pictures of the area she visited.

Mrs. Donley invited the group to meet in her home, 2329 Arnold Drive, for the Feb. 1 meeting.

LUKE 2:1 "For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord."

It happened in Bethlehem of Judea. I do not try to explain to you the mysterious ways of God. His ways are far above our ways and past finding out.

I do try to explain that Christ alone is our Saviour. There is salvation in none other. No group, denomination, tradition, baptism, (water or spirit) is able to save you. For there is none other name given under heaven, whereby men must be saved, but by the name of Jesus. He is the way, the truth, and the life and NO man cometh unto the Father but by HIM. For by grace through faith are you saved and that not of yourselves, it is the gift of God.

To be saved from eternal damnation you must confess Jesus Christ with your mouth and believe in your heart that God raised Him from the dead and thus shall be saved.

For the merriest Christmas do this today.

Keene chosen for surveys on rail crossings

Illinois Transportation Secretary John Keene has announced that consulting firms have been selected for 11 highway improvement projects throughout the state.

The consultants were chosen by a special five-member committee. All firms considered must be prequalified with the Department of Transportation to insure their abilities in accomplishing project objectives, it was noted.

One of the projects is in District B, Greene, Calhoun, Jersey, Madison, Bond, Clinton, St. Clair, Washington, Monroe and Randolph counties (all state routes).

The contract involves engineering services for field surveying all public railroad-highway grade crossings in the district; identifying any deficient railroad advance warning signing and pavement marking; and developing contract plans for properly marking and signing the grade crossing.

Keene & Associates of Collinsville has been selected for the work.

Workshop by abuse center

The Rape and Sexual Abuse Care Center at SIUE will sponsor an all-day "community involvement workshop" Saturday, Jan. 7, from 9:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. in the Missouri Room of the University Center.

"This workshop is for all interested community persons, as well as those interested in future volunteer services to the Care Center," Pam Klein, coordinator, said.

The Care Center provides counseling, support, hot-line telephone service and emergency in-field workers for victims of rape in St. Clair and Madison counties and all communities within these two counties.

"Since we are a community service agency, we are looking for volunteers—not just from the campus population but from women who are community, not university, based," she added.

Further information about the center registration for the workshop is available by calling 692-2197.

4 new soybean varieties

By RON CORNWELL, Agricultural Extension Adviser

Over the next few years, there will probably be several new soybean varieties released. It takes two to three years from the time a variety is developed until enough seed is available to release the variety for sale.

There are four new varieties of soybeans you will be hearing about the next few years. They include Franklin, Union, Crawford and Elf.

Only one, Union, will be available for planting in 1978. The others should be available for use in 1979.

Union, formerly L-21, has resistance to phytophthora rot and downy mildew. It matures after Williams but before Cutler 71. It is a Williams with a better disease resistance.

Franklin was developed with a resistance to race three cyst nematode. It is related to Custer, but yields better.

Its maturity is similar to Kent. Its biggest advantage is that it is resistant to race three, but yields more than Custer.

It also stands better and is more shatter resistant than Custer.

Crawford yields more than Cutler 71, Kent or Columbus. It matures later than Cutler 71 and Kent but earlier than Columbus.

Elf is the new semidwarf hybrid developed to resist lodging. It has the same maturity as Williams, but is shorter. The small size means it could be used well in narrow rows with high populations.

Ever since people have been farming, other people have been selling products to cure all crop and soil problems.

Les Boone, University of Illinois Extension agronomist, says farmers should be cautious about buying these "miracle" products, especially at a time when profits are uncertain and money is tight.

Not all products are deliberately fraudulent, but some simply may not boost production.

Companies with so called "miracle" products will not substantiate their claims with data collected under an unbiased agency.

They may offer several reasons why there is no data. They will say research is expensive, and the agency refuses to test it. Instead, they produce a testimonial from other farmers who have used the product.

Some "miracle" fertilizers have been studied and about the only consistent conclusions have been a lack of yield response to them.

In some cases, if farmers followed directions and did not apply conventional fertilizers, the result was a decrease in yield.

The latest information on raising bedding plants will be presented at the 1978 Bedding Plant School scheduled for Jan. 13 at Belleville Area College.

The program is sponsored by the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service and is open to any person in Madison County desiring information on raising bedding plants.

Topics on the morning program include new vegetable varieties, energy conservation methods for bedding plant producers, the pesticide emigma, and germinating those difficult seeds.

The afternoon program includes a discussion on "business analysis for a profitable bedding plant operation." The program concludes with a tour of the Ahner Florist Greenhouse in New Baden and Heap Greenhouse in Belleville.

Those interested in registering for the program may contact the Madison County Extension office, 900 Hillsboro, Edwardsville.

Many educational programs scheduled for January will be of interest to Madison County residents. They include Agronomy Day, Jan. 9, at the Farm Bureau Auditorium in Edwardsville;

Urban Pesticide Dealers Clinic, Jan. 12, at Belleville Area College; Estate Planning Seminar, Jan. 18, Augustine's Restaurant in Belleville; Area Dairy Day, Jan. 18, American Legion Hall in Breesport; Forage Meeting, Jan. 18, Farm Bureau Auditorium in Edwardsville; Vegetable Growers School, Jan. 25, Holiday Inn at Collinsville; and Area Beef Day, Jan. 31, at Augustine's, Belleville.

Special phone rates for holiday callers

Santa Claus will be through with his chores by Christmas morning, but thousands of Bell System employees — including about 2,300 Illinois Bell operators — will be starting a busy day, according to Ken Evers, manager of the Granite City office.

American Telephone & Telegraph Co. estimates that Christmas callers will make a record 15 million interstate long distance calls.

According to Lee McKinney, Illinois Bell's manager for operator services in East St. Louis, about 4,000 calls will be handled through her office which handles calls placed in this area.

Customers can realize significant savings by using discount long distance rates — 35 percent to 60 percent lower than daytime rates — which will apply to interstate, direct-dialed calls throughout the holiday weekend.

Night calling rates — a 60 percent discount on direct-dialed interstate calls — will be in effect all day Saturday, December 24, and until 5 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 25. Evening rates — a 35 percent discount from daytime interstate rates — will be in effect from 5 p.m. to 11 p.m. Sunday.

Because Monday, December 26, is a legal holiday, evening rates will be in effect from 8 a.m. until 11 p.m. for direct-dialed calls.

The same schedule of calling rates will be in effect during the three-day New Year's weekend. Rates for direct-dialed calls are lower than for operator-assisted calls. On Saturday, Sunday and Monday of both holiday weekends, the lower evening rates for operator-assisted calls will apply during daytime periods.

The best times to place direct-dialed calls are early in the morning, late in the evening and between 1 and 5 p.m. Christmas Day. Customers will have the best chance of getting operator-assisted calls through Christmas Day if they call before 10 a.m. or after 11 p.m. Illinois Bell points out that calls customers dial themselves will get through faster. But callers who need help will get it from 1,300 long distance operators and 857 directory assistance operators who will be on duty throughout the state on Christmas Day.

These operators are expected to assist Christmas callers on about 946,000 calls, including about 396,000 long distance calls.

Foreign steel claims fifth of U.S. supply

There was little slackening in October of this year's furious pace of steel imports as foreign steel accounted for 19.5 per cent of apparent domestic supply during the month, new statistics showed this week.

October steel imports totaled 1,761,728 tons, raising the 10 month steel import total to 15,262,118 tons, an increase of 25 per cent over the first 10 months of 1976, when imports totaled 11,323,397 tons.

In some product categories, foreign mills have substantially increased their shares of this market. Imports of steel plate, for example, which reached 29 per cent of apparent supply in September, rose to 30 per cent in October. This compares with 17 per cent for the first six months of this year.

October plate imports of 250,600 tons equaled 43.1 per cent of domestic shipments of 580,986 tons.

Plate imports from Japan in both September and October were below their monthly average of the first nine months of this year, but imports from West Germany increased substantially.

Imports of plate from Italy, Spain, Belgium, the United Kingdom, France and Poland also increased significantly during September and October. The European Economic Community is primarily responsible for the recent increases of steel imports.

October imports from the EEC were 770,062 tons, pushing the 10-month total to 5,143,890 tons. This is more than double the 2,252,572 tons of steel imports from the EEC in the comparable 1976 period.

Japan decreased its October exports to 339,019 tons. For the 10 months, Japanese steel imports of 6,493,079 are substantially comparable to the 1976 record pace of eight million tons annually.

The Great Lakes-Canadian Border region continued to suffer most from the import assault. Through the first 10 months of this year, imports into that region increased by 77 percent over the same 1976 period.

The steel trade deficit reached $3,500,000,000 at the end of October.

Steel exports totaled 125,366 tons in October, bringing the 10-month exports total to 1,705,508 tons. This is a 23.5 per cent decline from exports of 2,239,257 tons through the end of October last year.

Clinic on stopping smoking

Barnes Hospital is one of ten hospitals selected to conduct pilot stop-smoking clinics co-sponsored by the American Cancer Society, American Hospital Association and American Society for Health Manpower Education and Training.

Two eight-week clinics will be conducted at Barnes next year. The first, beginning in January, will involve hospital personnel. The second will be held in March and April and will be open to a limited number of metropolitan area residents. Results of the two clinics at Barnes and those at the nine other hospitals will be evaluated by the Health Manpower group, which will prepare a guidebook for use during future efforts to enable all U.S. hospitals to offer the stop-smoking clinic.

The number of participants in the clinics will be limited to 20 for each session.

Screening of applicants will be conducted to comply with evaluation guidelines formulated during an organizational meeting in Chicago earlier this year. A $12 fee has been set for the clinic.

Rusti Moore, director of the education and training department at Barnes, said the hospital plans to continue to offer the clinics beyond the pilot project time. "We feel strongly that hospitals should be involved in educational programs which help people before they need hospitalization," she said.

Although the American Cancer Society has offered the stop-smoking clinics for some time, the pilot project marks the first time a coordinated effort has been made to offer the clinics in U.S. hospitals. The ACS will provide materials for the clinics.

The clinics are part of the Cancer Society's Target 5 project, which has the aim of getting 25 percent of U.S. smokers to quit the habit by 1982.

Sr. hot line—Supplemental security income for disabled

(Office of Lieutenant Governor Dave O'Neal)
Q. How disabled must a person be in order to qualify for Supplemental Security Income payments?
A. To be eligible for SSI on the basis of disability, a person must have a physical or mental impairment which prevents him or her from doing any substantial work and which is expected to last at least 12 months or to result in death. If an individual meets this definition of disability and the other SSI eligibility requirements, he may qualify for payments. Contact your Social Security office for help in filing an application for these benefits.
Q. Is it necessary to visit the Social Security office just to replace a lost Social Security or Medicare card?
A. No. Most Social Security business, including replacement of a lost card, can be done by phone. Individuals can use the telephone to report an address change, get assistance with filling out Medicare claim forms, reporting a lost check, applying for benefits... in fact, just about anything that requires contact with the office. To find the telephone number of your Social Security office near you, look in your telephone directory under "Social Security Administration" or "Medicare Information."
Q. Is there a special enrollment period for persons who didn't want the medical insurance part of Medicare when they first became eligible but now want it?
A. Yes, there is a general enrollment period in the first three months of each year. The next one is Jan. 1 through March 31, 1978.
Coverage for people who sign up for medical insurance during the general enrollment period begins on July 1 in the year that they enroll. The premium is also 10 percent higher for each year they could have been enrolled but weren't.
Write or call Lieutenant Governor Dave O'Neal's Senior Action Centers at 160 N. LaSalle, Chicago 00001 or a West Old Town Mall, Springfield 62701 with questions or complaints about any government agency or program. Cars entered in driveway, garage

Two autos at the home of Dave Gensert, 2403 E. 23rd St., were burglarized, he reported at 7:25 a.m. Tuesday.

A 1977 vehicle, owned by a Fort Washington (PA.) company, parked in the driveway was forcibly entered and a CB magnetic base antenna worth $20 was taken.

Entry also was gained into a garage, housing Gensert's personal car, by twisting the padlock from the door. The trunk had been punched to open it and a spare tire was taken. The burglar punched the door lock and opened the car hood, but nothing else appeared to be missing he said.

The Madison County state's attorney's office Monday issued an informational document charging Ronald Marler, 21, of 2212 Robert St., with burglary early Sunday at Lone Acres Tavern, 2413 Twentieth St.

Police responded to a burglar alarm at the tavern and found the drive-in window had been broken. Marler surrendered as officers entered the tavern. It was alleged. He is free on a $350 bond.

Salt bids a problem

Purchasing of rock salt is presenting a problem to the city of Venice as well as other communities, it was brought out in a discussion at the Venice City Council meeting Tuesday evening.

City Comptroller Carl Byrnes reported to the council that no bids had been received for salt and it was further noted that many cities are having similar problems.

The council noted that they would need to buy salt where they can find it on the open market.

Maclair Asphalt was awarded a contract on 150 tons of bituminous blacktopping for secondary streets. The cost is $12.10 a ton. Maclair made the only bid. Byrnes told the council, "This is only 25 cents more than last year's bid."

The council approved partial payment in the amount of $5,000 to the Mitchell General Contractors of East St. Louis pending completion of their project. The company has laid a new floor in the fire hall. The entire job will cost $6,200.

A police report from Chief of Police Ralph D. Hrawley for November showed a total of 26 adult arrests and four juvenile arrests with $578 collected in fines.

In other action, the council approved a bus trip for the senior citizens to the Lady of the Snows on Thursday, Jan. 5, and approved payment of meals for the Silver Bells Christmas party.

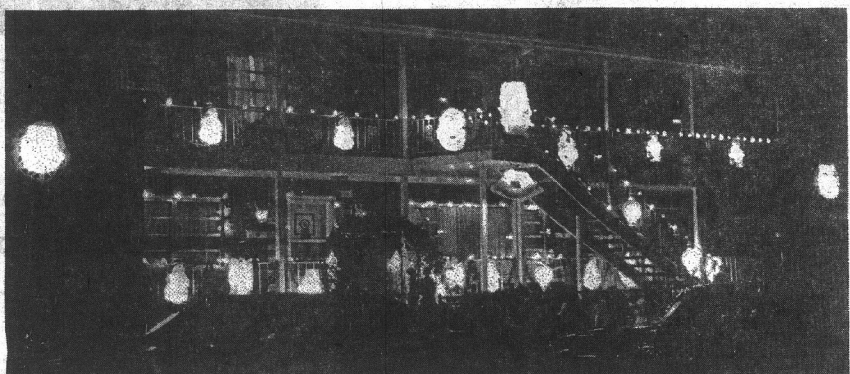

Alderman E. H. Buente served as mayor pro-tem in the absence of Mayor William Ebersold who is ill.

Burglary on Denver

Christmas toys, clothing, two wristwatches, a radio, a pair of boots and all of the food in the kitchen cabinets were stolen during a burglary at the home of Shirley Vandergift, 2606 near Denver St., it was reported at 1:55 p.m. Monday.

Attempts to enter by breaking the front door window were foiled by a padlock on the door. The back door window and a bedroom then was broken and the door unlocked by reaching through the window, but a dresser against the door had to be pushed out of the way to enter.

Police found blood on the rear door knob and on the broken glass.

HOLIDAY ATMOSPHERE is enhanced by many lighted decorations depicting Santa Claus, snowmen and huge ornaments at the corner of 3rd Street and Washington Avenue in Madison. The decorations are, on both floors of an apartment complex owned by Harold Ballentine. The railings which line both the upper and lower floors and stairways also are decorated with several hundred colored lights.

Vandals' parents responsible

In an effort to reduce acts of vandalism and other law violations by juveniles, the Granite City Council Tuesday night enacted an ordinance subjecting parents or guardians to responsibility for actions of juveniles in violating the law.

Alderman Gerald Parnley of the Sixth Ward who sponsored the bill said the measure "will provide another tool for the juvenile officer to fight the increasing amount of vandalism committed by young people."

The ordinance is modeled after one adopted by the city of Deerfield, Ill., where officials reported sharp reductions in youthful vandalism after several cases in which parents were fined as much as $500 for actions of their children.

The bill enacted by the Granite City Council fixes the age of a minor subject to terms of the measure as being between 11 and 19.

The ordinance states that "Corporate authorities have become aware of increased incidence of acts of vandalism and similar offenses by juveniles, and the corporate authorities recognize the need to provide the means of eliminating this problem in order to insure the safety of the property and residents of Granite City."

City officials, the ordinance asserts, "believe that increased parental responsibility for actions of their children is essential for the effective control and elimination of the juvenile offenses."

The new law specifies that "The parent or guardian of an unaccompanied minor residing with such parent or legal guardian shall be presumed, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, to have failed to exercise proper parental responsibility and said minor shall be deemed to have committed the acts described below with the knowledge and permission of the parent or legal guardian in violation of this ordinance."

Persons found in violation of the ordinance will be subject to a fine of not less than $50 and not more than $500.

Callis appointed GC city attorney

Lance Callis, a Granite City attorney, was appointed by Mayor Paul Schuler Tuesday night as city attorney to succeed George Filcoff who has been named an associate judge of the Third Judicial Circuit.

At the same time, Mayor Schuler announced the appointment of John Papa as an assistant city attorney, replacing Callis who had been serving in that post.

Callis assumed his duties at Tuesday night's council session following a caucus meeting with the aldermen in which he said he plans to reorganize the legal department, including a shift in some of the duties.

Callis said Papa will assume some of the work now being handled by Irvin Slate Jr. who has been responsible for most of the court hearings and trials in suits brought against the city.

The new city attorney also explained that he plans to submit a monthly report to council members concerning all activities of the legal department.

In addition to Callis, Slate and Papa, the city's legal staff includes Casper Nighohossian who handles all condemnation proceedings involving dilapidated buildings.

Callis, Filcoff and Papa are members of the same law firm, Callis, Schooley, Filcoff and Hartman.

Callis is a graduate of Granite City High School and St. Louis University Law School. He lives at 3136 Harvard Place. He is a member of the Tri-City Port Authority Board and is a former member of the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board.

Two injured in traffic crash

The auto of Jane A. Knight of Granite City was struck by a vehicle operated by Jerry L. Singleton, 3012 Warren Ave., at 7:55 p.m. Tuesday, when Mrs. Knight's car was halted for a left turn into Bellemore Village Shopping Center on Nameoki Road.

Both vehicles were southbound. Singleton was cited for reckless driving. Singleton and Robin L. Knight, 12, a passenger in the Knight auto, reportedly sustained injuries.

Purse, boots taken from home

A drawing leather purse, containing about $12, driver's license, papers and a checkbook, and a pair of steel toe black leather boots, worth $25, were taken in a burglary at the Donald Hughes home, 3711 Kirkpatrick Homes, reported at 6:50 a.m. Wednesday.

The intruder pried wooden strips from a rear door window, reached in and unlocked the door to gain entry while the occupants were asleep.

Two injured near Bellemore Village

Two youths were injured when the autos of Kim Williams, 86 Garceshe Homes, Madison, and Joseph Ybarra, 1607 Maple St., collided at 16th Street and Grand Avenue at 12:35 p.m. Wednesday.

Kim Williams was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way. Two passengers in her car were injured, including Edward Freeman, 18, of 907 Washington Ave., Madison, who was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for injuries to his head and neck. X-rays were taken and he was released.

Also injured was Herman Smith, 18, of Garceshe Homes, Madison, but he did not require hospital treatment.

Donald Vaughn of Granite City, Emil Toffant of Madison, Michael Vincent of Granite City, Edward Voumard Sr. of Alton and James Estes of Chouteau Township.

Vaughn, Toffant and Vincent filed nominating petitions at the opening of the filing period Dec. 12, resulting in a drawing for first place on the ballot. That went to Vaughn, with Toffant in second place on the ballot and Vincent in third place. Voumard and Estes filed subsequently, in that order.

Competition for most in Democratic primary

Opposition for the Democratic nominations to three county offices and for County Board nominations in four of the seven Quad-City board districts marked the closing of the filing period for the 1978 primary election Monday afternoon.

Five candidates will seek the Democratic nomination as sheriff, while three are bidding for the nomination as county treasurer. Two are in the race for the post of superintendent of the educational service region.

The end of the filing period left County Clerk Evelyn Bowles unopposed in her bid for renomination to that office.

Only one Republican filed nominating petitions during the seven-day filing period—Robert "Bob" Bibby of Troy, as a candidate for sheriff.

There were no Republican candidacies filed for the remaining three county offices, and only two Republicans filed as candidates for County Board posts in the Quad-City area.

All of the filings are subject to a five-day withdrawal period which began Tuesday and will continue until noon Saturday. Miss Bowles said the county clerk's office will remain open from 9 a.m. until noon Saturday to accept withdrawals.

Seeking nomination as sheriff on the Democratic ticket are Donald Vaughn of Granite City, Emil Toffant of Madison, Michael Vincent of Granite City, Edward Voumard Sr. of Alton and James Estes of Chouteau Township.

Vaughn, Toffant and Vincent filed nominating petitions at the opening of the filing period Dec. 12, resulting in a drawing for first place on the ballot. That went to Vaughn, with Toffant in second place on the ballot and Vincent in third place. Voumard and Estes filed subsequently, in that order.

Candidates for county treasurer are Michael Menkhous of Bethalto, Robert Stille of Edwardsville and J. H. "Jim" Augustine of Livingston.

Seeking the Democratic nomination for the regional school superintendent's post are incumbent Harry "Gene" Briggs and Vasil Efremoff. Briggs lives in Nameoki Township. Efremoff is of Granite City.

In Quad-City County Board filings, the period ended without opposition to Nelson Hagedauer, Granite City Township supervisor and County Board member who is seeking reelection to the County Board in District 20 (Granite City).

Also unopposed on the Democratic ticket is William Webb, seeking reelection in District 19 (Granite City), and incumbent Roderick L. Bauder who is seeking election in District 23 (Venice).

Bauder was appointed to the County Board early this year to fill a vacancy created by the death of the late Jay Malzer of Venice.

Walter "Dick" Sparks, incumbent board member of District 16 (Chouteau Township), has filed as a Democratic candidate for reelection, but is opposed by Joseph Garcia and Morris W. Miles, while in District 15 (Chouteau and Wood River) incumbent Wayne Bridgewater is opposed by George Schmittling.

One of the principal board member fights is anticipated in District 26 (Nameoki Township), where incumbent Board Member Louis Whitsell has filed as a candidate for reelection, but is opposed by Mrs. Helen Hawkins and Arthur L. Theis.

Daniel Partney, board member of District 21 (Granite City) also is seeking reelection, with opposition by John "Jeff" Worthen.

The only two Republican filings in the County Board election were those of George Slattery who is unopposed for the nomination in Board District 19 of Granite City, and Richard A. Mathenia who is unopposed in District 21 of Granite City.

Woman taken to island

A 29-year-old Granite City woman walking south in the 2300 block of Madison Avenue, accepted a ride with two men in a small blue car and was taken to Chouteau Island, she told Granite City police and an Illinois state trooper at 12:15 p.m. Tuesday.

When they reached Chouteau Island, the woman said she was told if she didn't do what they wanted, she could get out of the car and walk back to town.

The woman got out of the vehicle and walked to a farm about a half-mile away, where she called state police.

The driver was described between five feet, five inches and five feet, seven inches tall, chunky build, with shoulder-length, dark shaggy hair. He wore a tan leather jacket. The second man had short light-colored hair, was about five feet, seven inches tall and of slender build.

Christmas wish—'Make us an instrument of Thy peace'

As Christmas nears, let us pray the prayer of St. Francis, who lived devoted to serving the poor and afflicted. Where there is hatred, let me sow love. Where there is injury, pardon. Where there is doubt, faith. Where there is despair, hope. Where there is darkness, light. sadness, joy.

Grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled, as to console. To be understood, as to understand. To be loved, as to love. For it is in giving that we receive. It is in pardoning that we are pardoned. And it is in dying that we are born to eternal life.

Joseph Friedman exemplified free enterprise at its best

Quad-Cityans mourn the passing of Joseph Friedman, a longtime Madisonian whose late-in-life career dramatized the free enterprise system at its best. The Chromalloy American corporation that he founded has grown in yearly sales volume to the billion-dollar level.

Mr. Friedman's continuing devotion to local community betterment was demonstrated by his participation in recent months as a member of the governing board of Granite City's St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Another tragedy linked with escapes by Missouri felons

Holiday season sentiment is strained to the limit by the latest instance of dangerous Missouri prisoners escaping into Illinois. Granite City police were among those mobilized Tuesday night in the Interstate 270 area in the successful effort to recapture two convicted murderers. While fleeing from other officers in an auto they had stolen, the pair crashed into the car of Mrs. Mary Ann Cress, of Godfrey, who was killed.

Three innocent persons now have lost their lives as a result of crashes during escapes by the same driver. He is among the hundreds who have fled from the St. Louis jail, and also has managed to escape from custody while away from confinement to attend hearings.

Will school substitutes qualify for jobless pay?

By DONNA HARTWICK
Press-Record Staff Writer
The Granite City Board of Education on Tuesday night discussed at length the new state unemployment insurance program which will be instituted Jan. 1.

Such questions as whether substitute employees will qualify for jobless pay between assignments are a matter of concern to the district.

Tully A. Heubner, director of business affairs, submitted a detailed report, noting that the district has not yet received all information on two new plans available to employers.

By Jan. 31, public employers must notify the state as to which method of paying benefits for their employees they plan to use.

Currently, the public employers will be given the choice of paying a state unemployment insurance tax or reimbursing the state for unemployment insurance benefits paid to their employees.

The public employers will pay no federal unemployment tax, Heubner added.

Additional information will be available following a January meeting to be held in Macomb, Ill., in relation to the proposed program, Heubner said.

While units of local governments and school districts receive no taxing authority to permanently fund unemployment mandated unemployment benefits, there were some concessions for public em-

Carter seen as key to business upsurge

Will steel and other businesses recover their sales and profit momentum? Granite City Rotarians were told Tuesday afternoon that the key to the question is President Carter.

Because of such factors as uncertainty over what stands the federal government will take, and because of an economic squeeze that has limited the generating of investment funds, spending in plants and equipment remains at relatively low levels.

Steel Corporation economist, said, "With the President 'on the spot,' it is likely that to bolster this recession-chained economy, the government will seek prompt economic solutions, the speaker continued.

Steel imports involving below-cost dumping are a threat to the American steel industry, particularly since such production restrictions are cyclical, has high fixed costs and requires high volume to be profitable.

Since flat-rolled products are faring better than certain other steel production items, Granite City Steel and its parent, National Steel, are not as severely affected at present as some steel firms, Miss Green said.

She concluded that 1978 "looks better" in the current outlook than the past year's steelmaking activity.

A letter from home

The inside

There is an outside and an inside to Christmas, the same as with anything else. The Wise Men saw the outside of Christmas—the star in the East. But they sought more. So they asked, "Where is he?" Not where is the star or the angels singing, but where is he, the "inside" of Christmas?

The outside of Christmas is fairly easy to find. Easy because it is audible. We hear it in the old-familiar carols, in the chimes, in the joyful shouts of little children in the villages, in the joyful shouts of little children in the villages, in the joyful shouts of little children in the villages.

The outside of Christmas is also visible. We can see it in the star-filled eyes of children, in the look of gratitude on the face of a befriended shut-in. We see Christmas in the open door of a friendly church, in flaming poinsettias, in soft-glowing candles.

The outside of Christmas is also tasteable. We can taste it in the hands of the hungry, in the smiles of the poor, in the joy of the rich, in the love of the lonely.

But if you judge Christmas just by the outside, you are likely to be disappointed. For the sounds die in the distance and the sights melt from our eyes. The lasting treasure of Christmas is the inside, which is nothing less than Christ himself. To know him, to feel his presence, to love and be loved by him. Don't be satisfied with the ribbons and bows of Christmas, but look inside for the cherished gift of Christ himself.

With good things to eat. Mothers and grandmothers delight to share the bounty of their kitchens with families and friends.

But if you judge Christmas just by the outside, you are likely to be disappointed. For the sounds die in the distance and the sights melt from our eyes. The lasting treasure of Christmas is the inside, which is nothing less than Christ himself.

Unemployed for year, realizes past mistake

To the Editor:

We have a son who is married and has a family, but has been unemployed for about a year. Up to that time, he had a steady but low-paying job.

Wanting to better himself with higher wages and better benefits, he quit his job and began working for one thing or another—much of which he admits was his over-faith.

The reason was absenteeism. That word is one that holds, a certain stigma to it, doesn't it?

Employers want to shy away from hiring anyone who has been involved in absenteeism. We can't blame them for that, but in some cases like our son, who has desperately tried to find work, why can't they be a little truer to a person's word?

For one year now, he has searched for a job so he could support his family. He has his application in at about every place or industry in this area, in St. Louis, Wood River, etc.

Says other schools less crowded than Stallings

To the Editor:

On Dec. 12, I attended an informational meeting with Frank Kraus, assistant superintendent of Granite City, Unit School District No. 9 on the proposed closing of Stallings School.

From statements made at this meeting, I must conclude that all of the facts have not been analyzed in determining whether Stallings is the school best suited for closing.

When asked if figures showing student enrollment were being used in the decision, Kraus answered that the figures had not been used. In my opinion, these figures should weigh heavily in determining which school should be closed, if it is necessary to close one.

Six primary battles for statewide offices

Six statewide primary races were drawn competition, it was announced as filing ended Monday afternoon.

Christmas appeal—good will toward women of nation as well as to men

To the Editor:

Love one another. That is the Christmas message. Or is it? Today, in our affluent society, as compared with one percent of the world's population, we are not poor. Not just living below the poverty level, but below the welfare system; homeless, destitute, unloved, ignored because their lives work in our Christian society has no economic value.

There is no pension for them. There is no social security for them. Many of them do not even have an address.

Dr. Veronica Maz, sociologist, who runs an emergency shelter called the House of Ruth for these women in Washington, D.C., says, "There are missions and dayhouses everywhere, but for men only."

"Now there have started to be what would be called women dayhouses, but no one wants to deal with them. People refuse to see them, because they're not a threat to anyone."

An estimated 5,000 homeless and destitute women exist in Washington alone, and the House of Ruth may be only one of its kind in the country.

Love one another. Peace on earth. Good will toward men. It is being proclaimed in homes, shopping centers, on street corners, in schools, churches, and synagogues, where a large percentage of the customers will prepare themselves to administer the healing in store for their wives and children.

An estimated 28 million wives, and an undetermined number of children, receive this treatment at the hands of husbands in this Christian society.

Richard C. Levy, author of "White Beating," "The Silent Crisis" says this estimate is based on nearly identical findings obtained by social scientists in seven separate surveys and, "The experts tell us our estimates may even be too low."

As more battered wives are encouraged to speak out, one fact emerges: Economic dependence is the most common reason women tolerate marriages of violence.

Why does America, the land of the free and the home of the brave, have this deplorable situation?

Because women's constitutional rights are denied them. Have you ever asked yourself, if, if women were included in the Constitution, would a special amendment be voted to permit them to vote?

Why, in today's labor market, a woman takes home 57 percent for each dollar a male worker takes home?

Women are humans. Where are the human rights we love to talk about? Are they in the same category as the "love" and "good will" of the Christmas season?

The Equal Rights Amendment will provide the foundation necessary to reverse the discrimination which puts battered women at the mercy of the mercies.

The Christmas message of the insensitive and privileged who work in opposition to the Equal Rights Amendment is not one of love, or of good will, or of good will.

It is a callous and evil effort to maintain the status quo because they are not hungry, or lonely or destitute.

The same phrases issue forth from all their mouths. Listen to them.

Professor Thomas I. Emerson, who for more than 30 years has taught, researched and authored works on constitutional law, and who is Lines Professor of Law Emeritus at Yale Law School, states:

"That apostrophe has been characterized by a degree of misrepresentation and distortion of fact that is virtually unprecedented in the annals of public debate. And the falsifications have been constantly repeated despite the fact that time after time errors have been called to the attention of those who insist upon spreading them."

Readers, this Christmas let your gift include all of God's children.

Inform your legislator now that we will not tolerate the evil of withholding the basic rights of more than half the population of this nation; that we will not continue to see those who devote their lives to nurturing others, cast into the pit of despair; and that our legislation must no longer be based on the greed of those who know not love.

Holiday thoughts of war's missing

To the Editor:

When the United States withdrew from Vietnam, we left behind countless amounts of weapons and machinery. Even though this sounds inexcusable to the average American, at least these items can be replaced.

The same cannot be said for the over 1,300 men whom our President is abandoning. These men who are "missing in action" must have thousands of mothers, fathers, wives, sons, daughters, and brothers who are "prisoners of war."

Some of these same people are working on committees similar to ours with the goal of the acquiring and accounting of all the POW-MIAs.

The Department of Defense stated that Vietnam could account for 1,338 men, and the Communists use the information on who is dead or alive.

We have strong reasons to believe many of these men are alive. Each and every man should be returned to the nation for which he so bravely fought, whichever category describes him.

A couple of months ago we sent letters to hundreds of soldiers, asking people to write letters to the President and other public officials to urge them to do something for these Americans who served our country.

This means not writing them off like the expendable weapons and machinery. This means not proceeding with the status changes presuming all men are dead.

Many have responded with letters to the government, and many more copies. Now please respond with more letters. Our servicemen did not give up the battle; our politicians did.

Readers, what will you do? Help bring home our missing servicemen. Write or phone us. Please send us copies. Now, please respond with more letters.

Motoring hazards during holidays

To the Editor:

With the approach of the holidays, there are many important things should be remembered:

1. The fatality and accident rates never seem to decrease at this time of the year.

2. Alcohol and gasoline don't mix.

3. Don't drink and drive.

The parties and festivities will be almost everywhere. People of good cheer will be on the highways and streets.

celebrating, and visiting. Let's be considerate of others.

For those who feel they have to drink to be merry or cheerful, remember that alcohol is a depressant.

When water is removed from alcohol, ether is left and then, as with an anesthetic, the senses are lowered, as are our inhibitions.

Many times one forgets his capacity or tolerance for alcohol and then he may have just "one more for the road."

That's the one drink not needed by anyone.

So, this holiday season, let's try to keep it merry for everyone by not adding to the statistics. Let's become sober.

Let's help everyone to have a happy and safe holiday and to stay alive.

Let's remember: Don't drink and drive.

Keheo an inspirational youth leader

To the Editor:

In recent weeks many articles have been printed in area newspapers and the like, praising Mr. Gene Baker, coach of the Stallings basketball team. I'm not writing this letter to detract from Mr. Baker's responsible, caring and public to publicly thank another soccer coach.

My son, a senior at Granite City High School, North, played soccer for four years under the guidance and tutelage of Mr. Robert Keheo.

His influence on Eric and the boys' great respect for him has made our job as parents so much easier.

Mr. Keheo finds coaching an excellent opportunity not only to teach soccer skills but also to build character.

He insists that his boys behave like gentlemen both on and off the field.

He is always available to them to discuss problems and encourage them to excel in the classroom.

He spends many hours at home and researching new ways to help these young men develop into fine soccer players and responsible, caring citizens.

This year, the soccer Stallings had an excellent record of 20 wins, three losses and one tie. Their schedule was a hard one. There were few easy games.

The boys gave all they had and received very little publicity. There is no doubt in my mind that they gave gone to the state tournament, they would have won it.

Their dedication to their school and their coach was awe-inspiring.

I'm sure the parents of the other boys on the team, the soccer cheerleaders and many others whose lives he has touched will join me in a heartfelt thanks to Robert Keheo for all he has done for our youngsters.

Winter officially began at 5:24 p.m. yesterday.

Sentenced on drug charges

Bru Tomlinson, 29, of 2700 Iowa St., has been sentenced in Madison County Circuit Court to three years in prison after jury found him guilty of unlawful delivery of a controlled substance.

Tomlinson was arrested in June on a warrant from the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois after an undercover investigation.

Albert S. Smith, Decatur, a member of the Governor's Revenue Study Commission on Legalizing Gambling, has disagreed with the group's recommendation the start of a track betting.

Illinois municipalities may get $29 million in back taxes and penalties when the Penn Central Railroad bankruptcy suit is settled, an assistant Illinois attorney general said Tuesday.

Mrs. Julia Rozycki dies

Mrs. Julia (Kutsera) Rozycki, 92, of Washington Ave., Madison, died this morning at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Her husband, Frank Rozycki, preceded her in death.

Survivors include two sons, Raymond Rozycki of Belleville and Joseph Rozycki of Jacksonville, Ill., two daughters, Mrs. Jesse (Lorraine) Gontmar of Granite City, and Mrs. Edward (Nellie) Zarzcki, Caseyville.

Brother, Louis Kutsera of Madison, and one sister, Mrs. Fred (Veronica) Plebanek of Granite City.

Funeral arrangements are being in the obituary column.

"Dirty tricks" seeking to erroneously list sheriff candidate Emil Toftant as a member of the court case are continuing. A process server contacted Toftant about the case at a police association meeting in an obvious attempt by the sheriff's office to try to embarrass "Emil," Miles Toftant said Wednesday.

Emil Toftant, Madison, is a police association manager, said Wednesday.

4 hurt in auto crash

Four persons were injured when the van of Keith Atkins, 17, of 3845 John Glenn Drive, Ponton Beach, and the auto of Leonard Perry, 40, of 3313 Colgate Place, collided at 7:30 p.m. Monday on Ponton Road at Sara Street.

Perry and two passengers in his auto were taken by Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where they were released after treatment.

Perry sustained a neck injury. Helen Todd, 74, of 3114 Yale Ave., had a bump to her forehead. JoAnn Perry, 41, of 3313 Colgate Place, suffered minor injuries, but did not require treatment.

Atkins also sustained minor injuries, but declined to be taken to the hospital. He was charged with careless driving after his van allegedly struck the rear of Perry's car, which was stopped in traffic waiting for a train.

Soybeans overheated

Damage was reported negligible by a spokesman for the Archer Daniels Midland plant, 3601 Cargill Road, after a fire at 9:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Soy beans in drying bin caught fire when the bin overheated.

Firemen had trouble reaching the fire inside the bin, requiring the bin to be partially drained in order to reach the fire.

The firemen had two pumps, an aerial truck and 10 firemen at the scene for two and a half hours.

Two students admit break-in

Two Froebart School students Monday admitted breaking into the school and ransacking one classroom because a teacher had scolded one of the boys for stealing papers from another, authorities told police.

The boys, ages 10 and 11, will be disciplined by school officials, as will another 10-year-old, who said he waited outside the school and watched while the other two broke in and damaged the classroom.

Entry was gained by breaking a window to the classroom. Paint was spilled on books, desks and the floor and copper figures were thrown against the walls and floors, breaking them. Nothing was taken.

Policy change on utility aid

Public Aid recipients who were eligible to receive Special Crisis Intervention Program (SCIP) money to offset last winter's fuel and utility bills will benefit from a policy change planned in the food stamp program.

The Public Aid Department will give special consideration to eligibility requirements and retroactive benefits for client utility costs. These costs include electricity, heating and cooking fuel, one telephone, water and sewage charges, and trash collection.

With the new interpretation, SCIP funds are included in figuring the deduction to which each household is entitled.

Recipients who think they are eligible for adjustments are to contact their caseworkers. If the department staff used the outdated policy in determining eligibility, the future purchase price of the stamps will be adjusted for individual households.

FOOD STAMPS STOLEN

About $65 worth of food stamps were stolen from the home of Tammy Schoffs, 2222 Alexander Ave., between 5:30 and 5:55 p.m. Monday. The victim said the left door unlocked, was out of the home a short time and returned to find the food stamps had been taken from a dresser drawer.

Christmas activities by 4-H federation

Four-H members in Madison County held a federation Christmas party Monday evening and wrapped holiday gifts to be given to children in various areas of the county.

The 4-Hers are donating the gifts. Judging was held for the prettiest, most original and funniest wrapping jobs.

Another 4-H activity that emphasizes the Christmas spirit will take place this evening. Federation members from all parts of Madison County will join youths at the Northgate housing project in Collinsville to bake cookies and sing carols.

These and other activities are intended to teach 4-H members an awareness of the people around them and a sense of responsibility toward others.

"Through project work and club activities, 4-Hers in Madison County are becoming active, involved citizens," a spokesman commented.

BAC to 'cool it' for 9 days; ride sharing plan

Belleville Area College will shut down its entire operation from tomorrow through Dec. 31 so that heat can be cut down and lights shut off for nine consecutive days. Only a minimal staff will work during the nine-day period.

Custodial workers will return to the job on Jan. 1, after having taken their New Year's holiday during the shutdown period.

"The shutdown is another procedure initiated by the college in the interest of energy conservation," the BAC president, Dr. William R. Keel commented.

As another measure to conserve energy, beginning with the 1978 spring semester BAC will initiate a "share a ride" program.

A bulletin board will be set up in the main lobby across from the cafeteria with "share a ride" sheets available so that students, faculty and staff members can more readily form car pools.

All students and staff of the college are to be encouraged to utilize the ride information.

Curt Eckert, BAC board chairman, expressed his concern during a recent board meeting that so many cars were coming to the campus daily with only one or two students in them.

Eckert asked that the administration devise specific ways to encourage car pooling and thus conserve energy.

The Belleville Area College district is one of the largest of the state's community college districts, serving more than two thousand square miles, including the Quad-City area.

Pres. Keel has announced that a recent compliance review by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare has been completed.

Dr. Keel said that no official report has been received from the review team, but that the group indicated no great concern over the way that BAC has complied with requirements of Title IX (sex discrimination) or Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act (handicapped).

It is not known when the official investigatory report will be received, he added.

Grants totaling more than $200,000 were accepted by Belleville Area College's Board of Trustees at its regular December meeting.

A 12-month grant from HEW (Health, Education and Welfare) for the senior nutrition program, a continuation of a federal grant, was approved in the sum of $155,000.

A continuation of a $27,049 grant from St. Clair County for the St. Clair-BAC Senior Multi-Purpose Center also was accepted.

Another grant, from the Illinois Office of Education, will give BAC $46,872 for development of a career guidance resource center. The region served by the center will be Bond, Clinton, Washington, St. Clair, Monroe, Randolph, Perry and Jackson counties.

The already-existent Belleville Vocational Information System (BVIS) will be utilized in the operation of the career guidance system.

Major goals of the center were listed as:

(1) To help other educational institutions in the development of guidance and counseling services for those of limited English-speaking ability. (2) To acquaint counselors with the changing work patterns of women and of how to overcome sex stereotyping in occupations and education.

(3) To help correctional institutions with counseling of offenders. (4) To provide services for non-students, such as handicapped persons, retirees, economically disadvantaged, and those seeking second careers or late-in-life first careers.

(5) To provide leadership for vocational guidance and counseling in other educational agencies.

$1,200 sales volume with county is listed

Donald Vaughn of Granite City, a Democratic primary election candidate for Madison County sheriff, said this week he has filed an amended economic interest statement with the Madison County clerk's office. It shows that Midtown Pharmacy, in which he is a partner, has done more than $1,200 worth of business with the county in the past year.

Vaughn said failure to list Midtown on his first economic interest statement was simply an oversight, and that he had no reason to attempt to hide the transactions. There have been past news articles about drug sales for use at the county jail. Vaughn owns and operates Vaughn's Pharmacy and is a partner with Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler in Midtown Pharmacy.

"I just was not thinking about Midtown when I filled out the statement. Vaughn's Pharmacy does not do business with the sheriff's department," he added.

The filing of the amended economic interest statement will allow him to retain his ballot position, which is first among five Democratic sheriff candidates.

MOTOR FIRE

Granite City firemen responded to a fire call at the Pre-School Center, 24th street and Logan Avenue, at 2:10 p.m. Thursday. A soda machine motor overheated and no damage resulted. Firemen were at the scene for 30 minutes.

Carnival glass topic of Drusilla Andrews

Mrs. Janet Wilson, regent of Drusilla Andrews Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, welcomed guests and conducted the opening ritual at a weekend meeting held at Charlie's Restaurant.

The pledge of allegiance was led by Mrs. Lucille Butler and Mrs. Joanne Burcky read the President General's message. Miss Ella Ray Smith discussed three national defense topics relating to the Panama Canal, ERA, and the inability of college students to write.

Mrs. Burcky reported that the essay contest for American history month has closed and that she had several entries from the fifth and sixth grades in Granite City. Judges of the essays will be Mrs. Georgia Engleke, Mrs. Lucille Butler, and Ralph Frohardt. Winners will be announced in February.

Mrs. Eva Meier reported that the local high schools are also cooperating with the DAR in selecting their Good Citizens and the two schools have reported their recipient.

The regent read the formal invitation received by the chapter to the dedication of the new Granite City Township Building, this week. The chapter presented the U.S. flag to the new center, acquired by Congressman Malvin Price.

Clyde Lee, former principal of Webster School, was the speaker for the day and discussed the collection of carnival glass that he and his wife maintain. He mentioned that he felt right at home since he was a direct descendant of Richard Henry Lee and Robert E. Lee.

The speaker said that other names for carnival glass are "poor man's Tiffany," Aurora, or orange glass. Regardless of what you call it, there are two don'ts connected with it: One, don't let any water stand in it; and two—don't put it in the window where sunlight will shine on it. The color of your glass will be affected if either is done, he added.

He set the scene for carnival glass by reminding the group what our country was like back in 1890 when carnival glass began to be manufactured. He said most homes had 10x foot ceilings, oatmeal-colored wallpaper, and a dark rug on the floor. There were 8,000 cars in the United States and only 144 miles of paved highways. When driving, 15 miles per hour was a tremendous speed. Carnival glass was made until 1930 and people acquired some of the four styles — geometric, flowers, animals or plain — from the general store, the dime store, from the oatmeal boxes, or the Washington Theater, in Granite City.

Carnival glass was made only in America and the most popular color was orange, it was noted.

Members in attendance were Miss Nelle Hart and Mesdames D. Reva Turner, Emma Schoen, Florence Simpson, Mamie Frohardt, Eva Meier, Helen Gantcheff, Jane Ann Vaneiler, Alline Patterson, Margaret Bell, and Barbara Williams. Guests present were Mrs. Mary Hemphill, Mrs. Lorraine Bischoff, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lee.

Madison Methodist

The Madison United Methodist Church, Fifth and Ewing streets, will celebrate holy communion at a candlelight Christmas Eve service, Saturday, Dec. 24, at 11 p.m.

The Rev. Edward R. Weston, pastor, will deliver the message entitled, "The Joyful Risk of Faith." According to Rev. Weston the church practices open communion, so the community residents are invited to participate in the ceremony.

Christmas Day, during the church school hour, 9:30 a.m. the movie "The Coming of the Stranger" will be shown in the church basement. It is a movie about an isolated village retaining the legends and traditions of the past, but without understanding them. This modern day parable points to the incarnation, Rev. Weston said.

From 10:15 to 10:35 a.m. there will be a coffee and fellowship time in the church basement. Then at 10:45 a.m. the Christmas celebration and worship service will begin.

Rev. Weston will present the sermon, "The Gift of Christmas—New Persons!" The Chancel Choir will bring the anthem "The Shepherds and the Angel."

A gold chain, running through a rainbow arched over the manger, will be used to depict the keeping of God's promises to send the world a savior — at St. John Lutheran Church, 3132 Dodge Ave., on Christmas Day.

This new approach is based on Augsburg publishing house's Christmas service called, "The Promise, by Judy and Stephen Swanson. Co-superintendents are O. T. Potter and Larry Mikkel. In charge of the nativity tableau will be Mrs. Helyn Potter, assisted by Mrs. Terry Reynolds. Organist will be Mrs. June Barton, and the narrator, Pastor Boda.

On Christmas Day, the congregation will hold a festival worship service at 10 a.m., with Sunday School at 9 a.m. A special Christmas filmstrip will be shown to the children of the Sunday School. The pastor will deliver the Christmas gospel message, and special music will be provided by Miss Ellen Boda, organist, John Miller, trombonist, and Luther Boda, trumpeter.

New Year's Eve will be a time of reflection on the past year as the congregation closes the year with a Holy Communion service at 7 p.m., Rev. Boda said.

O'Neill dissatisfied with area progress

belongs to the voters. That's the way it should be."

O'Neill said he has had labor backing when he ran previously, together with teachers' support and endorsement. "I would welcome that support again."

"My record in the past is good for teachers and for labor, and it will continue to be so." He added that Equal Rights Amendment supporters probably will back him.

He is the youngest son of the late Schaefer O'Neill, an Alton attorney who served several terms in the legislature.

The candidate is a lifelong Democrat, single and a third-degree member of the Knights of Columbus.

Claims against the estate may be filed in the office of the Circuit Court, Probate Division, County Courthouse in Edwardsville, Illinois, within 6 months from date of issuance of letters; and any claim not so filed is barred as to the estate inventoried within that period.

Also, copies of claims must be mailed or delivered to the administrator with will annexed and to the attorney.

Booklet on home heating

For those who have an oil-fired furnace in their home, a new government publication may help them save money in heating bills this winter.

U.S. Rep. Melvin Price (D, 23rd Ill. Dist.) says that a new pamphlet entitled "How to Improve the Efficiency of Your Oil-Fired Furnace" contains tips on ways to save as much as 30 percent in home heating costs.

Ideas in the publication include having the furnace cleaned and serviced, which it says can sometimes save up to 14 percent of a family's fuel oil bill. Simply replacing an oversized burner could possible save another 30 percent, it is contended.

"The book is written in simple language and in question-and-answer format." Price said. "It's worth the time to study carefully."

Single copies of the pamphlet are available by writing to the Consumer Information Service, Pueblo, Colo. 81009. Any company or organization is welcome to reprint and distribute the booklet, Cong. Price added.

"We've got some new faces running against the machine this time: Tofant, Henkhaus, McPike and Judge Montemian. I think the voters are going to be pleased at the opportunity to make a choice in this coming election."

"There will be not just the same old organization guys, but some new faces, new ideas and new blood in the political arena."

If we can elect some new people, perhaps we can start moving ahead again."

Presently in private law practice with his brother, Patrick S. O'Neill, the candidate has had previous experience as an assistant state's attorney in Madison County, as a law clerk to the Illinois attorney general and as an election specialist for the Illinois State Board of Elections.

The latter duty included membership on a special Board of Elections campaign disclosure project over the last two years.

O'Neill commented, "I'm in this to win. I expect the campaign to be long and hard. But I want the voters to have a choice when they go to the polls in March."

"No organization owns that Senate seat. Sam Vadalaene doesn't own it. That seat belongs to the voters. That's the way it should be."

O'Neill said he has had labor backing when he ran previously, together with teachers' support and endorsement. "I would welcome that support again."

"My record in the past is good for teachers and for labor, and it will continue to be so." He added that Equal Rights Amendment supporters probably will back him.
